All Politics
And Rather Dull
Many Questions
Wheat Is Up

Convention Events

—By Arthur Brisbane—

Copyright, 1924, by Star Company.

TEN MILLION voters ask each other ten million questions. Here are samples of the questions:

What about the votes of Catholic citizens next November? There is no such thing as a "Catholic vote," but there are millions of voting Catholics, men and women. How do they feel about the religious question raised in the Democratic convention? How many of them, through their votes, will say to the Democratic party, "In spite of the Constitutional guarantee, the religion that we profess seems to be an insuperable objection in a Democratic convention. If our religion isn't good enough for you, then our votes can't be good enough for you."

AND THEN La Follette. What about his vote, in view of John W. Davis' nomination? By how much will the Davis nomination increase the La Follette vote. That it will increase it there is no doubt.

Certainly hundreds of thousands of Democrats that did not consider themselves as "radical as La Follette" would rather be radical like La Follette than conservative like John W. Davis.

AND WHAT about Mr. Coolidge? How will the Davis nomination affect him? Men in Wall Street yesterday were saying that "Davis' nomination will cost Coolidge many conservative votes, because ultra-conservatives will prefer Mr. Davis, the Morgan attorney, to Mr. Coolidge, presumably more independent of big financial influences."

Many political questions were raised when the Democrats selected their ticket, tired and angry, in the late night hours.

ALSO WHAT about William J. Bryan and his brother, Governor Bryan of Nebraska?

Can W. J. Bryan even PRETEND to work for a man whom he described as he described Mr. Davis?

Governor Bryan is able, honest, sincere. Many farmers would undoubtedly have voted for him, rather than for La Follette had he been at the head of the ticket. But no farmer buys a cow for the sake of the tail, or a donkey either. They will hardly take a Presidential ticket for the sake of the tail, no matter how admirable that tail may be.

AND WHAT about those conservatives that are going to vote for Davis, saying "All's well with the world," and go happily to sleep? Do they realize that Davis is not immortal, that automobiles can run over him and germs attack him, absit omen! How would they feel should they succeed in making the J. Pierpont Morgan lawyer President, and suddenly and through an accident, William Jennings Bryan's brother had become President? That would wake them out of their sleep with a bang.

STRANGELY ENOUGH Wall Street didn't feel so very happy yesterday. Perhaps, with Davis of Morgan & Co. on one side, and steady, conservative Mr. Coolidge on the other, speculators remember the fly that fell into a tub of honey. It was too sweet for the fly's digestion.

Mr. John W. Davis and Calvin Coolidge is a combination so sweet that it makes high finance worry about La Follette. The latter won't win the election, but he might throw it into the House, and that would not be acceptable to the "safe and sane" gentlemen.

The price of wheat went up again yesterday. Perhaps some of the big fellows are busy. They know, or at least believe, that higher prices for grain would do to La Follette votes what paris green does to potato bugs.

BEFORE YOU decide that this country should enter the League of Nations and mix up in foreign affairs, consider facts in connection with foreign money.

THREE BIG nations, France, Belgium and Switzerland, have the franc as their unit of money; the Italian lira is the same. Francs and the lira were

MUIR HUNG BREATHING PRAYER

New York Youth, Executed in Montreal, Leaves a Pathetic Note for Mother

Valleyfield, Que., July 11.—With a smile on his lips and with the declaration to his mother that he "had made peace with his maker," Walter Muir, twenty-one-year-old student of New York, was hanged today.

Shortly before the execution he assured his mother, in a pathetic farewell in the Valleyfield jail, that he "would pray for her always."

Muir, during the two hour wait between the time he bade farewell to his mother and the hour when the "death march" began, walked quietly up and down his cell. When they came to his cell he said he was "ready."

He walked to the gallows with a firm step, holding his head high. To the end he displayed the same fortitude that had marked his last few days in jail.

The march to the gallows began at 8:15 and the cap was adjusted at 8:23. It was not until 8:35 that Muir was cut down and pronounced dead.

Muir was hanged for the slaying of Henry Laviolette, whom he killed during a drunken brawl last Sep-

BODY OF YOUNG CALVIN BORNE FROM TRAIN

Marines who mounted guard at the East Room in the White House are shown bearing the casket containing the body of the President's younger son from the train following its arrival at Northampton, the boyhood home of young Coolidge. Lieutenant Edgar Allen Poe, in command of the marine escort, grandnephew of the poet, is standing at the extreme right.

ELKS ON NORTH SHORE TRIP

With their costumes dried out and their tempers improved, 15,000 Elks left Boston today for a visit to Gloucester and a jaunt along the North Shore.

Yesterday's drenching was forgotten in the glorious weather ushered in by the storm.

"Boston has vindicated itself," said Dr. Charles P. Jenne of Juneau, Alaska, speaking for the gang. Dr. Jenne was one of those caught in the rain which played havoc with the Elks' parade.

"I was beginning to think this town belonged to the Florida swamp zone," he continued, "but I see you

COOLIDGES BACK AT CAPITAL

Washington, July 11.—President and Mrs. Coolidge returned to Washington today from Plymouth, Vt., where yesterday afternoon they buried their youngest son, Calvin Coolidge, Jr.

John Coolidge, the President's father, accompanied him, coming to the Capital for the first time since his son became President.

The Presidential special reached the Union Station at 7:45 a. m. and the President and Mrs. Coolidge motored immediately to the White House.

In careworn faces and drooping figures, both gave evidence of the suffering which they have undergone during the past week in the death of their son and the long journey to Northampton and Plymouth for the funeral and burial.

The plans of the President for the immediate future are still uncertain, but it is understood that he desires

ONE GUARD FOR 5,000 BATHERS

Women and Children Who Patronize So. Boston Beaches Lack Proper Protection

The two-mile stretch of bathing beach on the Strandway at South Boston continues to be inadequately protected by lifeguards despite the thousands flocking there to escape the sultry heat of July.

One of the most dangerous sections on the entire beach, where fully 5,000 persons, mostly children from the ages of three to ten, go bathing on hot days had but one life-guard patrolling a half-mile stretch.

It is the section between the Head-house and the steamboat wharf.

ONE GUARD FOR CROWD.

The Boston American has already pointed out that the lifeguards are efficient. But even if this lone guard were in the fastest of power boats, he could not get to a person in need of help in time.

Yet he must cover a half-mile stretch, the most thickly crowded on the entire Strandway, where on Sundays and holidays the number of bathers mounts to the 10,000.

At one end of the beach is a rotted raft, with part of its boards missing. This raft was covered with youngsters, and one end was in water that was far over the head even of an adult.

CRITICISM APPROVED

So deep is the water there that the raft used to be used to discharge passengers from steamboats. The raft is entirely unguarded, in a dangerous condition, and the solitary lifeguard was so busy patrolling the other sections of the beach he never had time to come near it.

One youngster on the raft could not have been more than three years old.

Residents are heartily approving the bitter criticism by Thomas Faye.

Liner Talks 6,285 Miles by Radio, Breaking Record

San Francisco, July 11.—A record for long distance communication by radio between a ship at sea and a shore station was made by the Federal Telegraph Company's beach station here, the company announced.

The local station exchanged messages with the Oceanic Liner Ventura, then 6,285 miles southwest of San Francisco.

U. S. STAR GETS WORLD RECORD IN OLYMPICS

Olympic Stadium, Colombes, France, July 11.—The only thrill of the Olympic games came today in the first semi-final heat of the 400-metre run, when Horatio Fitch, of the Chicago Athletic Club, made a new world record by breaking the tape in 47 4-5 seconds.

The second semi-final in the 400 metres went to E. H. Liddell, the Scotch star, in 48 1-5 seconds, equaling the world mark which stood until yesterday's performance by Imbach, who was a record-holder for only twenty-four hours.

Imbach was second to Liddell, with Y. Coard Taylor, of the American team, gaining third place and qualifying for the finals by a great finish.

Finland laid the foundation for a victory in the 3,000-metre team race when her stars finished one, two, three in the first heat of the trials. Nurmi, Ritola and Tala finished in that order for a total of six points.

The United States team won the second heat of the 3,000-metre team race.

DIVIDEND ORDERED BY COURT

Judge Wait Also Denies Petition for $441,778 Set-off for Overdrafts

Judge Wait of the Supreme Court today released $1,303,373 of the assets of Charles Ponzi for the benefit of the Ponzi creditors.

He further ordered that Bank Commissioner Joseph C. Allen turn the money over forthwith to Henry V. Cunningham, Ponzi trustee in bankruptcy, and that the latter immediately declare a dividend of 35 per cent.

This will put the regular Ponzi creditors on the same plane as that occupied by the creditors of the commercial department of the Hanover Trust Company, who already have been paid 35 per cent. dividends.

At present the money is in the Hanover Trust Company, in the name of Charles Ponzi. It has been in dispute since his incarceration.

Judge Wait nominally established the claim of the trustee in bankruptcy to $1,500,000 of Ponzi funds. But, as he has ordered $157,500 set off to take care of Ponzi's liabilities in the matter of 1575 shares of stock of the trust company, and $42,975 set off to meet Ponzi's liabilities in connection with a $50,000 loan to

YOUNG MUIR DIES ON SCAFFOLD BREATHING PRAYER FOR MOTHER

YOUTH GOES TO DOOM CALMLY

tember. Muir said he was trying to protect a cripple when he shot Laviolette.

There had been a pathetic scene between mother and son a short time before the boy went to his death. For weeks, the mother, Mrs. May T. Muir, a little widowed New York dressmaker, had been striving with all her might and resources to obtain executive clemency for her son.

PRIEST PROTESTS.

Prominent New York women including the Duchess of Richelieu also had interested themselves in the case in Muir's behalf, declaring there was no deliberate intent in the murder.

Rev. Father Aumais, who administered last rites to Muir, refused to go to the gallows with him, declaring the boy "is not a criminal."

"I am not opposed to capital punishment," Father Aumais said, "but it ought to be resorted to only in case of criminals."

Tears streamed down Mrs. Muir's cheeks as she said farewell to her boy in jail. She had arrived at Valleyfield at 6:30 o'clock from New York. For a time she strove bravely against her emotions, but 10 minutes after she was alone with him in his cell she was in his arms—in tears.

Muir's face was pathetically sad. It required the greatest efforts on his part to restrain himself from breaking down, too.

FAREWELL LETTER

He did not tell her that he had written her a "farewell letter" to be delivered to her after his death. He had written it alone in his cell during the night. It read as follows:

"To My Heartbroken Mother:

"My poor mother, how you must be suffering since my death. But you must be brave and remember I died a good Christian and in a state of grace.

"Always think of me as I will be watching and praying over you until you join me in heaven. It was the will of God that I should leave this earth at this time. I am dying a very happy boy.

"I love you, mother, with all my heart, and will pray to God always for you. Good bye, mother dear, may God bless you.

"Your loving son, Walter."

BLAMES BAD COMPANY

Just before he began his "death march" to the gallows Muir had a heart-to-heart talk with Father Aumais.

"Bad company, Father, is the cause of my downfall," he said.

Muir told the priest that, before he died, he would like to see and talk with Edward Carroll, who was with him when the fatal shot was fired. Carroll was in the same jail serving a sentence of 18 months for complicity in the shooting.

"I want to set him on the right path father," Muir said.

But the jail authorities would not permit Muir to see Carroll—the regulations forbade.

WIDOW REFUSES AID.

Before Mrs. Muir went to see her son for the last precious minutes with him, she went to see the relatives of Laviolette, the slain man.

She pleaded with the relatives and Mrs. Laviollette, just as she had been for days pleading with the authorities, to do something to save her son.

But the plea left the relatives as well as the widow cold. She declined to intercede in any way.

"A husband is dearer than a son" the widow said, simply and with finality. "All the money in the world couldn't repay me for the loss of my husband, a better man than whom never lived. I loved him as much as you loved your boy."

Although obviously courageous and unafraid to die, Muir thought up to the very last minute that he would be granted a reprieve. The strenuous efforts in his behalf, of which he was well aware, had given him high hope.

READY TO DIE.

When he left Bordeaux Jail and was driven off to West Mount Station he called out to a prison guard:

"I'll get those reprieve papers, but if I don't I'm ready to die anyway."

At Valleyfield, where the hanging took place, Muir's arrival was awaited by Sheriff Thisdale and a great crowd.

Many had crowded themselves on top of a building overlooking the prison yard in the hope they would be able to get a glimpse of the hanging.

As Muir's eyes took in this scene, he instantly comprehended, and a tremor shook his frame.

But he straightened up quickly and held his head high, occasionally even smiling during conversation with guards as he was taken the rest of the way to the jail.

BLOOD RED SCAFFOLD.

The boy was hanged on a blood red scaffold in the courtyard of the little Valleyfield Jail.

He died smiling, his face lit up with an ethereal light.

"Jesus have mercy," he said, in a voice that, although low, reached the very ends of the court.

On the scaffold the handsome youth's blonde head was raised to catch the morning sun and the black hood.

The prayer was on his lips when the hood was adjusted.

There was a grating sound. Then a swift downward rush—and all was ended.

Before he died Muir addressed a letter to the sheriff of the district, declaring he did not have a fair trial.

"I did not intend to kill anyone—there was no premeditation. I forgive all."

RUM-RUNNER IS SHOT IN BATTLE WITH POLICE

Newport, Vt., July 11.—A party of smugglers and their cargo, consisting of a large quantity of liquor and four Chinamen, were captured here after police engaged them in a running fight, wounding one of the smugglers.

The runners include one Canadian and three Americans. They were in two machines, the drivers of which gave their names as Arthur Page and Edward V. S. Aubin, both of Lowell, Mass.

ALL NIGHT VIGIL.

Motorcycle Officers Eugene D. Haire and Walter D. Degree, after an all-night vigil, discovered the smugglers proceeding along the road between Coventry and Troy.

The first car attempted to speed by the officers, but was stopped when police bullets flattened their tires. This machine contained 400 bottles of whiskey and 121 cases of Canadian white wine.

Occupants of the second machine, noting that their companions had been stopped, attempted to turn around and flee in the direction of Canada. The officers took up the pursuit and wounded one of the occupants before the car was brought to a halt.

CHEATED IN OPERATIONS.

In this machine, besides two white men, the police found four Chinamen huddled in the bottom. Their clothing bore the trade marks of stores in the Canadian Northwest.

Page, driver of the liquor-laden car, told the police he started from Lowell Thursday night. Receipts for checks on the Union Watertown Bank for $2,000 and $3,000 were found in his pockets. He explained he had been cheated in a liquor smuggling proposition. He was placed under $1,000 bonds.

His companion, Victor Gilboreault of Jay, professed ignorance of the fact it was unlawful to smuggle liquor and he was held in $500.

The car containing the Chinamen was driven by Edward V. St. Aubin, who carried with him three number plates—Massachusetts, Vermont and Quebec. He was accompanied by Joseph V. St. Clerny, a Montreal mechanic. St. Aubin and St. Clerny were arrested and the Chinamen were each held in bonds of $2,500 as witnesses.

QUINCY POWER ROW GOES TO STATE BOARD

As a result of the refusal of Mayor Gustave B. Bates of Quincy to allow the Edison Electric Illuminating Company permission to lay underground cables in Adams, Hancock and Washington streets so as to connect their new power plant in Weymouth with the terminal in Boston, the company today filed a petition with the Public Utilities Commissioner asking that the locations be declared necessary for the public convenience.

The Quincy City Council approved the company's request in May, but it was later vetoed by the Mayor and the council failed to pass it over the veto.

Under the law, when a municipality refuses a petition of a public utility company, the company has the right of appeal to the authorities at the State House for the necessary permission.

HUB MAN SHOT IN CHASE

Louis Fabuzza of Boston, alleged to be a bootlegger, was shot down and captured by Federal officers at Wells Beach, Me., today. After a hot chase he jumped from his auto and fled. He was wounded after an exchange of shots.

Field Oficers Weaver and England fired upon Fabuzza when he attempted to escape to avoid search of his heavily-laden machine. They pursued him for a quarter of a mile and had nearly overtaken him when he ditched the car and fled to the woods.

As they approached him Fabuzza opened fire, but missed. They returned the fire, wounding him slightly in the leg.

He was taken to a hospital at Biddeford, Me., for treatment. Fifty gallons of alcohol were found in his machine, the officers said.

New York, July 11.—The condition of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, is improved, his secretary announced today from the Hotel Shelburne, Coney Island, where the 74-year-old labor leader has been under treatment for a nervous breakdown.

Samuel Gompers

Gompers was brought to the hotel from the Lenox Hill Hospital where he had been recuperating for some weeks from a general breakdown.

Two nurses are constantly in attendance and specialists from Manhattan were called to examine the Labor leader.

"Mr. Gompers is very weak," one of his secretaries said. It was said no one was permitted to see him for several days.

to get away from Washington for a brief period.

A trip may be taken on the yacht Mayflower into Chesapeake Bay, the President being accompanied only by his father, Mrs. Coolidge and their son John, who returned with them this morning from Plymouth. John is scheduled to enter the citizens' military training camp in Massachusetts next month.

Members of the Cabinet who were of the funeral party motored to the White House with the President and then separated to go to their respective homes.

After calling off the cabinet meeting, the President finally decided to meet as usual with the members of his official family. Other engagements were cancelled, however.

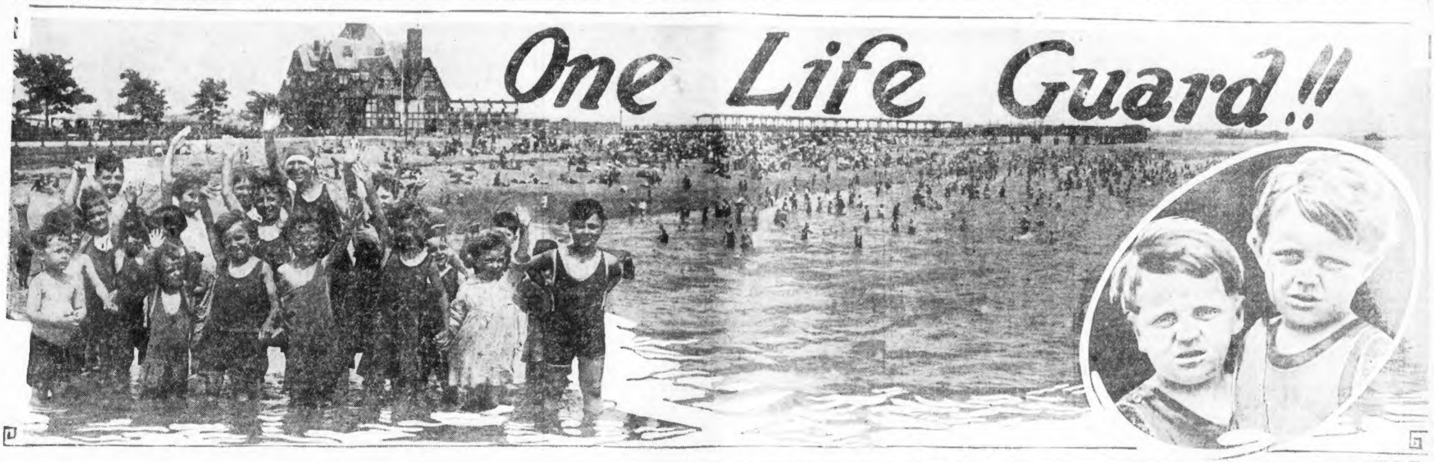
THOUSANDS BATHE IN PERIL ALONG UNGUARDED CITY BEACHES

LACK OF LIFE GUARDS IMPERILS THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN AT SOUTH BOSTON BEACHES



One Life Guard!!

WOMEN AND CHILDREN IN DEMAND FOR PROTECTION

of No. 196 Boston street, whose nine-year-old son was drowned on the Strandway, and who said that no action probably will be taken until it is too late.

Residents of South Boston demand to know if it is necessary that scores of youngsters shall drown before the imperative need of supplying the proper number of life-guards is satisfied by City Hall.

That particular section is not the only one that is improperly protected. Between the Headhouse and the bridge leading to Castle Island, thousands of people bathe daily.

As in other sections young children form the greater portion of the bathers.

On this section—fully a mile long—there is but one life-guard, despite the fact that the beach is extremely rocky, affording every chance for a youngster to slip and fall.

The beach is full of large clam holes, and if a tot should be wading in the water and step into one of them, it would be the last of him.

DEMAND INCREASE.

Residents are demanding that three life-guards be placed on either side of the Headhouse.

The hot weather has brought thousands to the beaches of South Boseton, which are popular not only with the residents of that locality but with thousands who live in the South End, North End, and West End.

Hundreds come from the different suburbs of the city, including Brookline.

Mrs. Charles Gordon, of No. 131 Boylston street, Brookline was at the beach with her two small children, Charles and Thomas, aged two and three years respectively. They were typical of the thousands of youngsters who go to the beach, and who can easily wander out of their depth to danger.

Two other sections of this Strandway, the Boston American has already pointed out are without any protection and they occupy at least two miles.

One is the section between L street and the Mosquito fleet yacht club where at least one life-guard is needed.

The other section is from the yacht club to the bathhouse at Columbus Park. It is a sweeping half-moon beach nearly two miles long, and despite the fact there are thousands there bathing daily, not a single life-guard is on duty.

OTHER DANGER SPOTS.

Residents declared at least eight should be on duty—one to every quarter mile. This is a particularly treacherous section, and many drownings have occured there in the past.

The beach was made by filling in on a old dump and some of the debris still becomes uncovered with the movements of the tide.

There are many dangerous clam holes there also, and if a youngster should fall into one, or step on a piece of the debris—rusty iron, ragged-edge tin cans, or broken bottles—he would go down and there would be no one to save him.

For few adults bathe there. Mostly they are tired mothers who come in street dress with their large families.

The men prefer the encloseures at the L street bath.

So the situation stands at present that the men, most of whom are able swimmers within the L street enclosure, are carefully protected with life-guards, but the mothers and their kiddies dotting the two-mile stretch are left to protect themselves on the worst part of the beach as best they can.

CHURCH OF 'DRY PASTOR' IS BOMBED

Joliet, Ill., July 11.—The Ottawa Street Methodist Church, of which the Rev. Henry E. Rompel, dry raid leader, is pastor, was damaged badly by a dynamite explosion early today.

Police attributed the bombing to bootleggers.

The rear end of the church was blown out and many plate glass windows in the business district, in which the church is located, were shattered.

The Rev. Mr. Rompel's raiding activities began last December, when he piloted twenty Chicago prohibition agents through the Joliet saloons, where large quantities of liquor were seized and the proprietors arrested. Twice in April he headed raiding parties which visited saloons and road houses.

The pastor and his wife left two weeks ago for an European tour. No one was injured in the explosion.

NORTH END GIRL DIES AFTER 50-FOOT FALL

Conchetta Sardo, six years old, of No. 456 Hanover street, North End, fell from a fire escape on the fourth floor of the building, No. 479 Hanover street, and sustained injuries from which she died at the Haymarket Relief Hospital. The girl was playing with several companions when she lost her balance and dropped to the street, fifty feet. She sustained a fracture of the skull and internal injuries.

BOY OF 8, PLAYING, VANISHES SUDDENLY

Police of Chelsea, Boston and nearby cities today were seeking Eli Segal, twelve-year-old son of Sam Segal of o. 56 Fourth street, Chelsea, who disappeared from his home. The boy was playing and suddenly was missed. He was dressed in blue overalls, a light jumper and a gray cap.

3-Year-Old Is Forced to Doff One-Piece Bathing Suit

Long Beach, Cal., July 11.—Little three-year-old Bonnie Barrett, attired in a snug bathing suit, was playfully disporting herself in the water when interruption came from an attendant.

"That girl will have to get another bathing suit," this deep-chested individual remarked. "We can't allow anything like this."

Mr. and Mrs. Barrett glanced at the little girl and her suit. Then they looked about them at the shapely limbs and glistening bodies weaving to and fro in the water or posing languidly at the water's edge. With a sigh of resignation they led little Bonnie from the scene. Modesty again had triumphed.

STANLEY FIELD AND EX-WIFE ARE RE-WED

Chicago, July 11.—Mrs. Sara Carrol Brown Field, and her former husband, Stanley Field, nephew of Marshall Field, were remarried here.

They were divorced two years ago. Mrs. Field, formerly one of the three Brown sisters of Baltimore, was married to Field in 1900.

Field, in his suit for divorce, which Mrs. Field did not contest, charged that she refused to live with him. They had two town residences, he occupying and one she the other.

Occasionally, as when their daughter Katherine was married to T. Clifford Rodman, and when their daughter Daphne made her debut, Mrs. Field presided as mistress of the Field family home.

The engagement of Daphne to Russell P. Kelley and the desires of Mrs. Rodman and the younger daughter, Josephine, are believed by friends to have brought their parents together again.

FAIL TO INDICT GIRL WHO KILLED BROTHER

New York, July 11.—Anna Bobar, fourteen-year-old Yonkers girl who stabbed her brother to death when he upbraided her for staying out late, will not face any more severe penalty than a term in a reform school, it was decided after the Westchester County Grand Jury refused to return an indictment against her.

Following the action of the Grand Jury, the case was turned over to Judge George C. Appell of the Children's Court at White Plains. The girl will be subjected to a thorough mental and physical examination.

Meanwhile Anna remains in custody of the Children's Society at Yonkers, where her evident apathy to the entire situation continues to puzzle her guardians. Her father has not yet forgiven her.

FARMER-LABOR PARTY BACKS COMMUNISTS

Chicago, July 11.—The candidacy of William Z. Foster and Benjamin Gitlow of New York, nominated respectively for president and vice-president by the Workers' party of America, has been endorsed by the National Farmer-Labor party, which will not support Senator Robert M. La Follette endorsed for President last week at the Conference for Progressive Political Action.

Announcement of the party's action was made by the executive committee which consented to the withdrawal of Duncan McDonald of Illinois and William Bouck, Washington, recently named at the National Farmer-Labor party convention at St. Paul.

Endorsement of La Follette by the Cleveland conference "betrayed the Farmer-Labor masses into the hands of merchants, manufacturers, bankers and rich farmers and thus destroyed the only chance for a united front campaign in the coming presidential election," the national executive committee of the Farmer-Labor party said in a statement.

Nominations of Foster and Gitlow were made at a meeting of the national conference of the Workers' party, followed by a mass meeting of members, of the Workers' party last night.

Foster and Gitlow have been prominent in communistic activities.

C. E. Ruthenberg, executive secretary of the Workers' party, in addressing the mass meeting, declared the platform adopted at Cleveland favored the small industries, professional class and well-to-do farmers and not the workers and majority of farmers.

JAP AMBASSADOR QUITS WASHINGTON

Washington, July 11 (Universal). —Masanao Hanihara, Japanese Ambassador to the United States for the last year and a half, left today for San Francisco, whence he will sail for Japan, July 18. It is generally understood that he will not return as his country's ambassador.

Masanao Hanihara

Hanihara presented his successor ad interim, Issbura Yoshida, to the State Department. In the absence of Secretary Hughes, Acting Secretary of State Grew received the new envoy.

BOY DEAD, ANOTHER DYING OF LOCKJAW

Bridgeton, N. J., July 11.—Morris Winchester, 12, died today from lockjaw which developed from a slight burn on his left wrist received on the Fourth of July in firing a pistol. His parents said they did not know where he got the pistol.

At Perth Amboy, Stephen Kutcher, 12, is in a critical condition in the hospital suffering from lockjaw caused by a blank cartridge pistol wound in his left hand which he received on the Fourth of July.

CHINAMAN IS ROBBED OF DIAMOND AND $84

Joe Fume, twenty-six, a Chinaman, of Olcott, N. Y., was held up and robbed of his $750 diamond ring and $84 in bills today.

Fume said two holdup men covered his eyes and consequently he could not give a description of them.

6-Year-Old Girl's $200,000 Estate Puzzles Bank

Gardner, July 11.—The First National Bank of Gardner, trustee, under the will of Helen R. Heywood, of a fund of $213,228.62, has petitioned Probate Court for instructions as to what disposition it shall make of $30,000 accumulated income.

The beneficiary is six-year-old Martha Heywood, now vacationing in Honolulu.

The will directed that she have income from the fund sufficient for "maintenance, support and education." But the bank declares her needs are cared for by more than $10,000 income from other property.

ORDERS JAIL TERM FOR BEER MILLIONAIRE

Chicago, July 11.—Terry Druggan, once the head of the noted "Valley Gang" of reputed beer runners, and now credited with millions invested in breweries, was sentenced today, with his partner, Frank Lake, to serve one year in jail and pay a $1,000 fine by Federal Judge Wilkerson for contempt of court.

Brive Armstrong, prohibition agent, accused them of piping real beer from the Standard Beverage Company plant, in steam pipes under the street to a garage used for delivery headquarters. The plant had been padlocked by the court for a previous conviction.

GREATER PRODUCTION IS "CRYING NEED"

London, July 11.—The first world power conference, held at the British Empire Exhibition during the last two weeks, in which American participation was prominent, closed its sessions today by adopting this resolution:

"This conference is of the opinion that the world's most crying need today is greater production and manufacturing activity among its peoples under conditions which will promote industrial prosperity and happiness, and that this can be largely achieved by the fuller development of natural power resources and the establishment of the most economical means for the general distribution and utilization of energy."

ATTEMPT MADE TO FLOAT TRURO QUEEN

Jonesport, Me., July 11.—An effort may be made to float the three-masted schooner Truro Queen, of Parrsboro, N. S., which grounded on Egg Rock, two miles of Jonesport, during a fog.

The coast guard cutter Ossipee was expected to arrive during the day in season to make the attempt on the high tide. The schooner is light. Captain D. B. Merriam and crew are standing by the craft.

TREASURY SAVING SALES SUSPENDED

Washington, July 11.—The Treasury today ordered suspended all sales of treasury savings certificates and stamps effective July 15.

Acting Secretary Winston said the present money market did not warrant the treasury paying 4½ per cent. interest on the savings securities when money may be obtained at much lower interest.

KILLS TOO MANY TO REMEMBER, HE BOASTS

Hanover, Germany, July 11.—While popular indignation over the indifference of the police to the case of Friederich Haarmann, confessed mass murderer, is growing, the slayer is taking his situation calmly and is asking to be beheaded, "as I deserve to be."

"I don't remember the names of all of my victims," Haarmann told interviewers today. "You see, they came so fast that I really did not have a good chance to get well acquainted with them."

He recalled having slain not less than a dozen boys and young men and was quite certain there were many more whom he did not recall.

As a result of the indifference of the police with respect to the inquiries of parents whose sons are missing, a popular mass meeting was called at which the indictment was demanded of police officials who are believed to possess accurate knowledge of Haarmann's wholesale butchery.

Hundreds of letters are arriving daily from all parts of Germany, in which frantic parents report the suspicious disappearance of members of their families, and ask the police to search for possible traces of them among Haarmann's belongings.

The room in which the "modern Giles de Retz" slaughtered his victims is situated on the top story of a decrepit tenement house facing the River Leine. The bodies of the slain persons were thrown into the river, the bottom of which is now being dragged for further evidence.

KILLS WIFE TO END 30-YEAR QUARREL

New York, July 11.—A thirty-year family quarrel ended today, police said, when Cornelius Lyons, 60, a plasterer's helper of the Bronx, shot and killed his wife, Delia, also 60, and seriously wounded Philip Kilian, realtor, who rushed to Mrs. Lyon's assistance. Lyons was felled by a blow from a monkey wrench in the hands of his 13-year-old son, Cornelius, Jr. Lyons and his wife had been separated for some time.

53 INJURED IN TWO N. Y. BUS CRASHES

New York, July 11 (I. N. S.).—Fifty-three persons were injured today in two bus crashes. Thirty-eight passengers escaped death when a sedan car crashed into an uptown Fifth avenue bus on Riverside Drive. Twenty-three were hurt.

A sightseeing bus collided with a surface car at Coney Island, injuring thirty persons. Passengers were struck by flying glass.

ULSTER ASKS STATUS OF BOUNDARY BOARD

Belfast, July 11.—The Ulster government has agreed to ask the privy council's judicial committee to "determine the status of the boundary commission" which has been created to decide the dispute between Ulster and the Free State.

LAFOLLETTE'S NOTICE NEEDS 11,000 NAMES

Frankfort, Ky., July 11.—A petition bearing 11,000 signatures must accompany the declaration of intention of Senator La Follette, to offer himself as an independent candidate for President of the United States, a study of the law today showed.

Widow Loses $200,000 But Gets Her No. 2

Norwalk, Ct., July 11.—Carolyn V. C. Raymond, whose engagement to Dr. Junius Hardin McHenry of New York city was announced this week, will lose a $200,000 bequest from her late husband by marrying again.

The bequest was made with the provision that if she remarried, the amount would go to Raymond's daughters by a former marriage.

Mrs. Raymond, before her marriage, was Miss Carolyn Van Cleft of Oneonta, N. Y.. She attended a private school at Hackettstown, N. J., with the youngest daughter of the late Mr. Raymond, and it was there that she made his acquaintance. He was about thirty years her senior.

The death of Thomas I. Raymond occurred on May 8, 1920. He had an estate of $400,000, leaving Mrs. Raymond one-half of this, together with life use of the handsome residence that Sasqua Hills, with the condition that she remain unmarried.

STABBED DURING ROW IN OWN HALLWAY

Martin Nash, twenty-eight, of No. 3 Lawrence street, South End, is in City Hospital suffering from a stab wound in the chest. He stated he received it during an argument with a man in the hallway of his home.

Nash declared he could not give the name of the man, but knew him quite well. The assailant was about forty years old, five feet five inches tall, weighed 135 pounds and had several gold teeth in front.

Boston Young Woman Will Be Welcome White House Guest If Democrats Win

If John W. Davis should be elected President, there is one girl who calls Boston home who will have calling privileges at the White House.

Miss Frances Dwyer

She is Miss Frances Dwyer, a daughter of the Rev. Fr. Michael J. Dwyer, former assistant district attorney of Suffolk County, and she was secretary to the Democratic nominee when he was Ambassador to the Court of St. James.

Just now Miss Dwyer is doing secretarial work for Doubleday, Page & Company at Atlantic City.

Smart Set to Hold "Rainbow Fete" in Aid of Children, Says Betty Alden

By BETTY ALDEN

"BLYNMAN FARM," the Magnolia estate of the William H. Coolidges, will be transformed into a riot of color for the Rainbow Fete, which will be held there on Saturday, July 26, from 3 until 8 o'clock.

"Everybody come, and bring the children," is the slogan of the committee in charge, headed by the mistress of "Blynman Farm." Especially to tempt the youngsters will be a Punch and Judy show, "grab," pop corn, balloons and ice cream cones.

There will be tea and dancing on the lawns, with an excellent orchestra to dispense the very latest "jazz." Miss Louise Fessenden, daughter of the Sewall H. Fessendens, whose Summer place is at Manchester, has charge of a group of girls who will assist at the tea-dance.

There will also be lines of booths where candy, flowers, vegetables and fancy work will be sold. In Mrs. Coolidge's attractive bungalow on the beach—next to the North Shore Swimming Pool—bridge and Mah Jongg will be played.

The fete is to benefit the Children's Friend Society, and those desiring bridge and Mah Jongg tables may obtain their tickets from Mrs. William C. Chick of No. 9 Monument avenue, Swampscott.

JUST at present "Sparitvento," the Beverly Farms estate of the Arthur Littles, offers a gorgeous display of roses.

Mrs. Little's daughter, Mrs. Arthur L. Richmond (Jessie Means), will as usual spend part of the season at "Sparitvento" with Mr. Richmond and the tiny daughter of the family.

Another daughter of Mrs. Little's, Mrs. A. Nicholas Reggio (Claire Means), is spending the Summer at Marblehead Neck with her family. Previously, the Reggios were of the Farms colony.

Mr. and Mrs. Little were abroad the greater part of the past season, where Mrs. Little was taken quite seriously ill. On his strolls along West Beach, by the way, Mr. Little manages to keep the too-potent rays of the sun at a distance by wrapping a turban about his head.

MR. and Mrs. Theodore Frothingham Jr. (Eleanor Fabyan) are spending another Summer at the Farms.

3 ESCAPE BY USING 'I'LL BE BACK GAME'

Tell Cop They Seek Auto Registration Card, Leaving Two for Arrest

Found guilty of the theft of an automobile belonging to Thomas Chisholm of Roxbury, George Doran, 22, and Charles Riley, 21, both of South Boston, were sentenced to the House of Correction for one year by Judge Dean in South Boston District Court today. They appealed.

But for the strategy of three other youths who were in the machine when Patrolman Francis X. Mahoney of Newton approached the car on Commonwealth avenue there would have been five defendants.

When Mahoney came upon the five in the car, one left the machine which was stalled without lights in the road. He walked nonchalantly away. Doran had a license in his pocket, but there was no registration certificate in possession of the remaining youths.

"Where's he going?" Mahoney asked.

"He's going to a garage for wire to hang on our license plates and to fix our lights," said one of the four.

Two of them told Mahoney they would go after the missing youth "who had the registration." They went. A long wait. Mahoney got impatient.

Doran and Riley suggested that they would have to find their companions. This was too much for Mahoney. He arrested them.

The others escaped.

RAPS ATLANTIC CITY BATHERS AS 'DISGRACE'

Mayor Shocked by Brevity of Suits and at Once Enforces "Mackintosh Law"

Atlantic City, N. J., July 11.—Characterizing some of the bathers he saw going through the streets to the beach clad only in bathing suits that were down to the limit of the law in brevity, as a disgrace to the city, Mayor Edward L. Bader announced today that the so-called "mackintosh law" would be strictly enforced.

"There are too many bathing suits that, while they may get by on the beach, I will not approve to be brought into close view of pedestrians on the avenue," said the Mayor. "The police have been [illegible] some sort of cloak or wrap."

NEW YEAR CARD WINS FORTUNE FOR HUB WIFE

Dorchester Woman to Inherit Estate of Aunt She Had Not Seen in Years

A New Year's card [illegible] for more than [illegible] years and had [illegible] for Mrs. Annie C. Moses of [illegible] street, Dorchester.

[illegible] in her home in [illegible], France, Miss Clarissa [illegible] Waddell wrote to [illegible] of the Boston [illegible] asking that a search be made for her niece, "Miss Annie C. Waddell."

[illegible] knew the niece's address [illegible] she had received a New Year's card which bore the postmark "[illegible] Station." She had written several letters [illegible], the letters being returned.

The American today found that the Miss Waddell sought was Mrs. [illegible] Moses. She brought [illegible] years ago [illegible] the card to her until she had her [illegible] name.

PROVES HER IDENTITY.

Mrs. Moses was able to produce letters from her aunt to prove her identity, but she had not heard from her aunt since 1892. She was astonished at the news.

"I do not care so much about the money myself," Mrs. Moses said. "But I should like to be able to help my brother, who has three small children and would welcome an inheritance.

"Miss Clarissa Waddell is my father's sister and is more than eighty years old. I have never seen her. The Waddells are really English and the bulk of the estates are near London, but my aunt has lived in France for many years.

"My mother died when I was nine, in Sydney, N. S., and my father, marrying one of our maids, practically disregarded my two brothers and myself. We came to Boston with my mother's sister and I have lived here ever since.

DECEIVED BY FATHER.

"When my father's brother wrote me that my father had received an inheritance and that part was rightly mine, I wrote to my aunt asking for my father's address.

"She then wrote to my father, who replied that I was an impostor.

"After that my aunt disregarded me until this unexpected notice about her searching for me in order to leave me her estate. My card apparently removed the bad impression my father gave his folks about his own children."

CAMPAIGN FUND IS LA FOLLETTE PROBLEM

Committee Formed to Raise It Will Make a Special Appeal to Farmers and Laborers

[illegible]

MUST SATISFY LAFOLLETTE.

[illegible]

The [illegible] intervening between the two positions, it was said today by William H. Johnston, chairman of the committee, will be used in sounding out the various candidates available for the post as to their willingness to run.

FUNDS IS BIG NEED.

The man finally selected, he explained, will have to be endorsed by Senator LaFollette himself before he is offered the post.

The problem of raising a fund necessary to conduct a real campaign on a national scale is receiving much more attention from the committee just now than the selection of a running mate for LaFollette.

A special committee of six, all of whom are experts in the intricacies of campaign financing, has been chosen to devise some means of filling the war chest.

As the committee is composed largely of representatives of labor and farm organizations, it is expected the appeal for funds will be made largely to the farmers and laborers of the country.

This letter is not as large as it should be in proportion to it's importance.

This letter is given widest possible publicity, telling you about the biggest sale in the store's calendar of events -- when we test our ability to give you the greatest values -- when we urge you to throw upon us the full weight of your demands and desires for savings in home furnishings.

Ordinarily our July Clearance Sale is the great event of the year.

This year it is much more than that: intensified, enlarged, on a greater scale than ever before. An absolute store and warehouse clearance of all surplus -- at 1/2 marked prices.

That means that you can deduct a full 50% from the former prices -- cut the marked prices in two. Pay only half former figures -- save as much as you pay.

No matter how you estimate the importance of this message, it's full significance is told when we say: the greatest values ever offered by ANY store in home furnishings are now available at Summerfield's 1/2 off July Clearance Sale

CARNIVAL SPIRIT IS RAMPANT

have temperate weather here after all."

Those wishing to make the Gloucester trip began registering in the Old Tech building on Boylston street early this morning. At 9 o'clock the vanguard of the host moved away from Boylston street and on through Revere Beach, Lynn, Salem and Beverly to Gloucester.

BY AUTOMOBILE.

The trip was made by automobile. Thousands of Boston Elks had offered the use of their cars. Even nonmembers of the order loaned machines for the day, and sent drivers along, as well.

Timothy J. McCarthy was chairman of the committee in charge. At first it appeared as if he and his co-workers must be overwhelmed by the demands of the clamorous brethren wanting to go along. But as the morning wore on additional machines rolled around and most, if not all, of those wishing to make the trip were accommodated.

In addition to privately owned automobiles the fleet of cars that moved along the shore, Elk banners fluttering, included taxicabs and jitney buses.

A squadron of mounted police of the State Constabulary headed the procession as it left the city. Motorcycle policemen were sprinkled through the long line.

Most of those on hand for the North Shore Junket were in their costumes of yesterday, but what a difference there was!

DRY UNIFORMS.

Yesterday they finished their parade bedraggled, rather woe-begone, with the water squeaking in their shoes and dripping from their caps. Today the costumes were newly pressed and their owners had recovered all their good nature and added a little bit, in honor of the fine weather and the cooling breeze.

The head of the procession reached Gloucester about 11 o'clock. They had dinner at noon, followed by a band concert. Later they visited the United Shoe Machinery Company plant at Beverly and still later went to Salem Willows for sports, lunch and entertainment. Tonight they will be entertained at the Elks' Club in Chelsea.

You've got to hand it to the Elks for pluck. With thunder and lightning bombarding the city, and rain falling in a tropical downpour, they kept on marching and the bands kept on playing, with rain soaking into their brilliant uniforms and running over their shoetops in multi-colored streams.

When the storm first broke the various bodies at ease in the Back Bay streets ran for cover. But when the bugles sounded their call into line they broke cover and marched out bravely into the tempest.

Gusts of wind bowled over stalwart color bearers, but they got up and struggled on.

As the downpour came there were panics in the grand stands on Beacon, St. James and Tremont streets. Women clad in lace and filmy chiffons and men in Summer raiment rushed for shelter places. The police tried to stay the panic, but were swept away as men and women in solid ranks ran for shelter.

PARADE COLORFUL.

Open buildings were swarmed with people in a few seconds, and every sidewalk awning sheltered hovering crowds. However, there was not shelter enough for all, and as the rain continued the thousands who were wet to the skin returned to watch the paraders.

Only that much overworked adjective colorful can describe the parade. Never in the history of Boston has there been a parade in which such brilliant hues predominated.

The Philadelphia Elks staged the most elaborate features, in which the "New Year's Shooters" were the dominant feature. The "Shooters" celebrate New Year's in the Quaker city with a carnival which rivals New Orleans' Mardi Gras festival.

WOMEN FAINT.

Several women who fainted in the crush of seeking our shelter were treated at neighboring drug stores.

The greatest excitement was present in the jams that followed in the subways. The objective of nearly every member of the surging throng seemed to be to get into the subway before his neighbor reached there.

Only a small minority of the women carried umbrellas. Those who were provided with them found they were useless, as they were torn and pushed from their hands as the throngs dashed for shelter.

MAN DROPS DEAD.

Police stationed every few yards along Tremont street and Columbus avenue tried in vain to stem the rush. Young girls and women with babies in their arms dodged through the ropes, seeking the subway or trying to jam themselves into stores already filled.

Scores of spectators were overcome by the heat while watching the parade and one unidentified man dropped dead near the Parkman Memorial bandstand on the Common.

OFF FOR ELKS' NO. SHORE OUTING

MISS JESSICA O'BRIEN OF BOSTON

Seated on the hood of an automobile this fair lady is cheering for Lodge, No. 10 and waving at others of the merry Elks, bound for the cool breezes and green shades of Gloucester and the North Shore.

THEIR SMILES GO WITH THEM

This picture shows, left to right, Mrs. A. C. Willis and Mrs. F. O. Ecklund, both of Everett, Wash., as may be seen by the Elks' bands which adorn their hats. They are greeting friends in other cars as they assemble for the big outing along the ocean.

ELKS' TRAIN IN CRASH AT FALL RIVER

Fall River, July 11.—The journey of Newport Lodge of Elks to Boston nearly ended disastrously as the result of a crash which occurred while their special train was entering the local yards of the New Haven Railroad, when the engine ran in to open switch and collided with a switching engine in the yard.

Engineer Lang brought his train to a quick stop, the passengers were jounced about and shaken up, one man fainted and for a short time the party was thrown into confusion.

The special train was composed of five coaches filled with Elks and their families. Following a brief delay the train continued on it's way to Boston.

PHILADELPHIA ELKS ARE BIG PRIZE WINNERS

While Philadelphia Lodge No. 2 captured most of the honors in the huge Elks' parade, acording to the decision of the judges, Massachusetts lodges were also well represented among the prize winners.

The handsomest Elk is a member of Philadelphia Lodge. He is Police Captain Furey Ellis of Philadelphia. His attractiveness won for him a gold watch.

BEST APPEARANCE

In addition to boasting of numbering among its members the handsomest Elk, Philadelphia Lodge also won first prize among the lodges outside of Boston, having the best appearance in line, first prize among the lodges outside of Boston, having the most novel display, and first prize among all lodges outside of New England, having the largest membership in line.

The Massachusetts winners were Cambridge Lodge, for having the largest membership in line of all lodges outside of Boston. The prize was $250.

Lowell Lodge won second prize in this contest, winning $100; Plymouth, second prize for the best and most novel display of all lodges outside of Boston, winning $350; Quincy, Gloucester and Holyoke, first, second and third prizes, respectively, for the most attractive floats in line outside of Boston.

The result of the contests in detail follow:

CHICAGO WINS PRIZE.

1—Lodges having the greatest aggregate mileage based on number registering and appearing in line: First prize, Chicago, $250; second prize, Rochester, N. Y., $250; third prize, Sayre, Pa., $150.

2—Lodges West of the Mississippi having the greatest aggregate mileage based on the number registering and appearing in line: Dallas, Texas, $350; Portland, Ore., $250; Panama Canal Zone, $100.

3—All lodges outside of Boston, for the best appearance in line: Philadelphia, $350; Camden, N. J., $250; Detroit, Mich., $150.

4—All lodges outside of Boston, for the best and most novel display: Philadelphia, $500; Plymouth, $350; Wilkes Barre, Pa., $200.

5—All lodges outside of New England, for the largest membership in line: Philadelphia Lodge, $350; Detroit, Mich., $250; Chicago, $150.

6—All lodges in New England, outside of Boston, for largest membership i nline: Cambridge, $250; Providence, R. I., $150; Lowell, $100.

7—For the most attractive float in line outside of Boston: Quincy, $400; Gloucester, $300; Holyoke $150.

REVERE LODGE HOST OF ELKS TODAY

Thousands of Elks will visit the North Shore today where splendid receptions have been arranged for them by the different lodges along the Shore.

Exalted Ruler John J. MacAulay of the Revere Lodge has arranged a program of entertainment which will start early today and will continue until midnight.

One of the outstanding features of the entertainment program will be the first appearance of Giovanni Zerga, a noted opera singer.

Automobiles will be furnished by the Revere Lodge to take visitors to any part of the North Shore. Arrangements have also been made with places of amusement at Revere Beach by which Elks will be permitted to enter free.

A shore dinner will be served at Gloucester and there will be a reception at the United Shoe Machinery plant in Beverly.

THREE 'CHEERS' FROM THE WEST

ELK CATTLE BELT DELEGATES

Who's Who Among Visiting Elks

MRS. JOHN HOWARD of Atlanta, one of the most smartly dressed women at the convention huddled herself beneath newspapers in the stand on St. James ave. when the fury of the shower had spent itself, and announced: "I've come all the way from Gawga to see the parade, and I'm going to see it."

Chief of Police Frank H. Matthews of West Palm Beach lodge, Florida, is around shaking hands with a little live alligator. He gave the grip to T. F. Mahoney, who got another grip from the alligator.

From Gardner came Exalted Ruler John Lingrin and Mayor Charles Pearson.

Governor Flynn of Rhode Island, former Governor E. J. Soulci and Mayor Joseph H. Gainer, were the Providence contingent under Exalted Ruler "Joe" Cohn.

Attorney J. E. Kelley of McCook, Nebraska, who motored from his home to Cleveland, where he was a delegate to the Republican convention, is on his first visit to Boston.

The champion saxophone player of the Elkdom, H. E. James, is with the Dallas group, No. 71. He has given several exhibitions of his skill since he landed in Boston.

TEXAS COWBOYS BIG HIT IN PARADE

The Texas cowboys, with their cowboy band, were a striking feature of the parade and were made much of by the crowds. The cowboys were delighted with their reception, as was manifested by broad grins and exuberant Ki-Yi-ing on their part.

The Atlanta, Ga., drill squad marched with the loving cup, awarded it as second prize in the Braves Field drill competition, prominently displayed.

"We-all are right proud of this-yer cup, suh. We only been drillin' about a yeah. Yo'all watch ouah smoke next yeah," said the captain of the team with a grin.

A group of spectators were trying to figure out just what color the uniforms of the Toledo lodge were dyed. One said carmine, another said cardinal, another said rose madder. Finally one of the crowd asked the name of the color from a member of the lodge. "I do'no," he replied with a hoosier drawl. "What we awdered wus just the reddest shade of red.

"You sure got it," shouted the crowd.

The delegation from the Canal Zone created a great deal of interest, by reason of the distance they had traveled.

REVIEW BY COX.

In the official reviewing party at the State House were Governor Cox, Governor Charles A. Templeton of Connecticut, Lieutenant Governor Alvan T. Fuller, State Treasurer James Jackson, Attorney General Jay R. Benton, President Frank G. Allen of the Senate, Major General Clarence R. Edwards, Admiral R. DeSteiguer, commandant of the navy yard.

Also, Councillors Charles L. Burrill, Elwin T. Wright, Eugene B. Fraser, William W. Ollenfort and George E. Curran, Wilfred A. Wetherbee, assistant adjutant general of the G. A. R., Adjutant General Jesse F. Stevens and staff, and ten disabled veterans from the West Roxbury hospital.

Mayor Curley gave an exhibition of horsemanship in front of the Governor's reviewing stand when his mount became frightened while he was being handed a bouquet of flowers. Police officers started to the Mayor's assistance but he waved them away and subdued the animal himself.

PRICE TO GIVE ELKS' TOAST AT FILENE'S

Grand Exalted Ruler-elect John G. Price, Columbus, O., who was elected to the highest office in Elkdom at the Boston convention of the B. P. O. E., will deliver the 11 o'clock Elks' toast at Filene's store, Summer and Washington streets, tonight at 11 o'clock.

John G. Price

The grand officers and parties will attend "The Caddy Girl" at the Selwyn Theatre tonight as guests of the Filene Co-operative Association, and G. E. R. Price will leave the theatre in time to deliver the toast to Boston's public at Filene's store.

The same program of the week will be followed with the chimes sounding just before the "stroke of 11" and following the toast the brass quartet will play "Auld Lang Syne," in which the street audience is requested to join in singing.

4 SMALL BOYS IN OVERALLS PLEASE COX

Near the head of the line, in the Boston lodge contingent, marched four small boys in overalls and undershirts. They made a hit with the Governor's party when they stiffly saluted the executive.

A drill given by a group of delegates in the Philadelphia lodge, equipped with trick Fords, evoked considerable applause.

ROOFS HOLD CROWD.

Every window, balcony, as well as the flat roofs of the two wings of the State House, were filled with sightseers. A score of men and boys even scaled the slanting roof of the main buildings and perched there until driven down by "Jerry" Dacey of the State constabulary.

When the shower struck Beacon Hill a wild dash was made for the space beneath the reviewing stand. Many dresses were ruined when discolored water leaked through the planking. The Passaic, N. J., band got a hand at the height of the storm when it marched by to the tune of "How Dry I Am."

Even the baby elk of the Newton lodge seemed to understand what was required of him when he reached the Governor's stand. Up to that time he had been lying in his cage but he jumped to his feet and remained there while being reviewed by the chief executive.

The Salem witches, the whaleboat float from Gloucester and the chair sitters from Gardner came in for generous applause.

DAPPER NEW YORKER.

New York Lodge No. 1, dapper in its faultless sport tailoring, and a rose in its buttonhole, took a turn from the women in the official reviewing stand on St. James avenue.

Creases in their trousers, gleaming like pencil-lines down their formation, the boys from Manhattan were the last word in sartorial splendor and the women told them so.

Feminine cheers of approval greeted the Gothamites and the men in the stand took up the chorus when the band struck off "The Sidewalks of New York."

"Where'd you bury 'Al' Smith?" someone shouted, and a wag in line came back over his shoulder with: "We didn't bury him; he ain't that kind of a fellow."

"'Ray for Tammany Hall!" came another shout and a score or more were calling: "Where's Al Smith?"

UNDAUNTED BY RAIN.

Into the teeth of the pelting rain snatched Chicago Lodge No. 4, Baltimore Lodge No. 7, Washington Lodge No. 15 and Denver Lodge No. 17. Not even the overwhelming disappointment kept down the laughter as Toledo Lodge No. 53 strode jauntily through the rain, led by the backwoods rustic and his son, who did their antics as though the elements were of no importance.

A delegation from Boulder Lodge, No. 566, in gay-colored motor car and flying streamers, won approval from the onlookers who marvelled at the distances which some of the visitors had come.

Fr. James Buckley of St. Vincent's parish, South Boston, trailed his happy proteges, who comprised the cadet band and returned the smiles of the watchers as he steered his auto through crowded streets.

Maryland Elk Lauds Hub Police and Carmen

Boston's royal welcome and entertainment to the visiting Elks has brought heaps of praise from the various delegations, but none more emphatic than from Charles H. Sherman, past exalted ruler of Lodge No. 622, Annapolis, Md.

"I have attended eight national conventions," he declared, "but none has surpassed the success of this one and the kindness and friendliness which has marked the visit of the delegates here."

Charles H. Sherman Marion Sherman

Mr. Sherman, who has been in Boston ten days with his wife and little daughter, Marion, especially desired to laud the courtesies of Boston's street car conductors and the police officers.

"We have never been treated so nicely before away from home," he added.

Mr. Sherman is a delegate from his lodge and has been staying with his family at the home of Mrs. James McInerny of No. 28 St. Albans road, Roxbury.

DRY NEW YORK HELD $600,000 IN LIQUOR

New York, July 11.—New York was dry for the convention—so the officials say.

And yet, $600,000 worth of liquor was seized during the two weeks the Democrats were here, and 150 arrests made. There were 120 agents working, 80 of whom were sent here as extras during the convention.

KIDNAPERS FAIL TO SCARE MRS. M'CORMICK

Appears in Court Before Two Men Accused in Plot to Steal Her Son

Rockford, Ill., July 11.—Mrs. Medill McCormick, wife of the United States Senator, is not afraid of kidnapers and their like, she testified in court here.

Mrs. McCormick appeared against two farm-hands arrested after she had received a letter demanding $50,000, with a threat that her little son would be abducted.

"I was not afraid, but it did worry me a little," Mrs. McCormick said. "I told the postal authorities and the police and under their direction placed a package under the culvert, as these would-be kidnapers had directed me to do.

"Then these two men were arrested," the witness said, as she pointed to George Peek, 49 years old, and Clarence Peck, 24, his son. The two were caught when they attempted to remove the decoy package.

The elder Peek has confessed, and in his confession he said that John Wright, a wealthy farmer, helped in the scheme.

Wright, who had protested his innocence, will appear for a preliminary hearing Saturday.

Peek and his son were held for the grand jury.

FACES COURT FOR ATTACK ON GIRL

Suitor Arraigned on Charge of Beating Edith Black With Blunt Weapon

Charged with assault with a dangerous weapon upon Miss Edith Black, twenty-three-year-old stenographer, of No. 50 Elliot street, Melrose, Alvin T. Whittier of No. 102 Line street, Melrose, was arraigned today in Medford Court.

Edith Black.

Whittier, who is said to be a rejected admirer, was arrested by the Boston police for the Medford authorities.

The alleged attack, according to the girl, took place on the morning of June 20, when Whittier, she said, invited her to ride with him into Boston from Melrose. Near Wellington Bridge on the Fellsway, Whittier struck her with a blunt weapon, she told police, and cast her to the roadside, where a passing motorist picked her up and carried her to Malden Hospital.

At the hospital she was found to be suffering from a severe gash over the left eye, which required four stitches. Both eyes were blackened and there were other bruises.

U. S. NEEDS 11 BILLION STAMPED WRAPPERS

Washington, July 11. — Almost eleven billion stamped envelopes and newspaper wrappers will be required by the postal service during the four years beginning January 1 next, and Postmaster-General New announced today that bids would be received until August 7.

The four-year supply will average about one hundred envelopes and wrappers for every person in the country. The department spends about $5,000,000 a year for these accessories.

TAKES POISON AFTER QUARREL WITH WIFE

Roscoe Dow, forty years old, of No. 9 West Green street, Lynn, after an argument with his wife, took a dose of poison. Then he changed his mind and took a dose of mustard and water.

When the ambulance arrived he was able to walk into it unaided. At the Lynn Hospital the doctors said he was all right.

So he walked home, back to his wife, and patched up the difficulties.

J. W. DAVIS HEAD OF 'ENGLISH UNION'

Democratic Nominee Active in Organization Formed to Spread British Propaganda

By JOHN T. LAMBERT.

New York, July 11.—John W. Davis, the Democratic nominee for President, is president of the English-speaking Union, formed here four years ago, during the League of Nations fight, to spread English propaganda.

Its first president was William Howard Taft, who, next to the late Woodrow Wilson, was the foremost exponent of the League in this country. Mr. Taft remained as President until he went to the Supreme Court bench and was succeeded by Mr. Davis.

The English-Speaking Union says in its literature that it is the "sister society" of the English-Speaking Union of the British Empire, of which the Earl of Balfour is president.

There are branches of the English unit in Australia, Belgium, the Bahamas, Bermuda, Queensland, Buenos Aires, New Zealand, Italy and France.

HOW IT WAS FOUNDED.

"How the English-Speaking Union was founded" is thus described in official literature from London:

"The idea first took definite shape at a 'Diner a Deux,' at the Cafe Royal in 1912.

"The originators were Mr. John Evelyn Wrench and Mr. Alexander Smith Cochran of New York.

"In 1916 a draft scheme of the English-Speaking Union as it now exists was shown to the late Dr. Page at the American Embassy in London, who promised his support, although it was decided the launching of the scheme should be postponed till the conclusion of the war.

"On June 28, 1918, sixteen friends, representing the United States, England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, Australia and the British West Indies, formed themselves into the original committee.

JOINS WITH ATLANTIC.

"On July 4, 1918, the English-Speaking Union was formally launched, and shortly afterwards the Atlantic Union, founded in 1897, was amalgamated with E. S. U.

"The movement was quickly taken up in the United States, and it was soon realized that the English-Speaking Union on the other side of the Atlantic must be an independent organization, with only American-born citizens in control."

Mr. Davis is a busy lawyer, counsel for J. P. Morgan and Company, and for the Standard Oil interests. He was Ambassador to Great Britain during the war, when the Morgan House had an enormous financial interest at stake.

The membership of the Union in this country has never reached 10,000. But a list of its officers shows the enormous influence it wields.

The vice-presidents include: Otto H. Kahn, of the New York Banking House of Kuhn, Loeb Company; Paul D. Cravath, lawyer for many great financial interests; Edgar H. Wells, head of a big New York brokerage house, and Myron T. Herrick, former ambassador to France and counsel for financial interests.

The chairman of directors is George W. Wickersham, one of the most active League of Nations propagandists in this Country, one of the "Famous 32" who signed the appeal for Warren G. Harding's election on the ground that it would insure the entry of the United States into the League.

Among other officers are Allan Forbes, head of one of the big banking houses of New England; Ivy Lee, who "places" the advertising of many of the big corporations, including Standard Oil and New York Central, and Henry Rogers Winthrop, one of the influential stockbrokers of New York.

The Sulgrave Institute, another propaganda agency, is represented by common membership in the union.

Nominee Davis Would Be Another Golfer in White House

New York, July 11.—If the Democratic nominee is elected there will be another golfer in the White House. Wilson and Harding played but Coolidge does not.

Thousands of duffers won't envy John W. Davis's score. He's happy when he breaks a hundred on the Piping Rock course near Locust Valley.

Those who have seen Mr. Davis in knickers recall the seconding speech of Mrs. Izetta Jewel Brown to the Democratic Convention in which she pointed out he was a handsome man and that it was necessary to consider the woman's vote.

AUTOS CRASH HEAD-ON; TWO WOMEN HURT

Victims Suffering From Fractured Skulls in Lynn Hospital; One Driver Arrested

Two women suffered fractured skulls when two autos met in a terrific crash at Hawkes Corner, North Saugus, early today.

The touring car of Charles F. Frye, twenty-seven years old, of No. 71 Wentworth street, Malden, crashed head-on into the coupe of Albert L. Gibbons, age 30, of No. 761 Broadway, Everett, the machines being locked and carried for a considerable distance by the force of the crash.

Mrs. Gibbons, riding with her husband and Mrs. Mary Cunniff, riding in the Frye machine are the injured. Both are at the Lynn hospital suffering from serious head injuries.

Frye is under arrest in the Saugus jail charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated. He was arrested by C. F. Nelson Pratt, selectman of Saugus, who arrived on the scene of the accident before the injured were removed.

Gibbons was on his way to his Summer home at Lynnfield, and made the turn around the Beacon Light to turn into the North Saugus road when it is claimed the Frye machine, going toward Boston, bore down on him going at a high rate of speed.

Both machines were completely wrecked.

300 PERSIAN CAVALRY KILLED IN ATTACK

Allahabad, British India, July 11.—Three hundred Persian cavalrymen were killed by Turkomans during a night attack near Gumbad I. Kabuz, in the Turkomon country.

The remainder of the cavalry escaped to Bujnurd, whither reinforcements have been sent.

BAKED BEANS CAUSE DROWNING FATALITY

New York, July 11.—Three baked beans were indirectly the cause of the death by drowning of Isidor Levine, of No. [illegible] McKinley street, Brooklyn, according to the autopsy performed by Deputy County Physician William Brien in Newark. The body was recovered from the Passaic River at [illegible]. The three beans lodged in the man's appendix, Dr. Brien said, and caused colic which produced cramps.

WARDS FINE BREAD

A real honest loaf

Just extra good—that's all

This new loaf of yours is just made extra good, that's all. We call it "your loaf" because we asked a number of women to pass on it first and 9 out of every 10 preferred it to all other breads.

It's just the kind of a loaf that we like to think our grandmothers used to make except that it contains more milk, extra shortening and extra sugar—it's more nourishing.

It will satisfy your children's appetites. It will make good sandwiches for lunches and picnics and delicious toast for your breakfast. And it keeps moist and fresh.

It's good—we're willing to emphasize that point.

You must know that we are really proud of it when we have given it our own name—Ward's Fine Bread.

It is made from a good old recipe of Robert Boyd Ward's—our founder—his favorite recipe. We added still more milk, extra sugar and extra shortening—the direction in which he was working.

It is our new loaf, but better than that, it is your loaf.

Try it. Then, if you'll be so kind, write us what you think of it.

BUTLER PLANS DRIVE TO END PROHIBITION

Columbia Head Proposes Substitution of Canadian System for U. S. Dry Law

Victoria, B. C., July 11 (I.N.S.)—Following his study of the government liquor control systems of British Columbia and Quebec, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia University, New York, plans to start a vigorous national campaign in the United States against prohibition and in favor of the substitution of an alternative method of handling the liquor problem, British Columbia liquor officials, who assisted Dr. Butler in his inquiries, revealed today.

Dr. N. M. Butler

The American educator sees in governmental control the most satisfactory system of handling liquor of which he has any knowledge, provincial liquor officials stated today.

They say they understand that Dr. Butler plans to propose to the United States a system embodying the best features of the British Columbia and Quebec liquor systems.

The SEQUEL of "CHICKIE" A Boston Girl

The Thrilling Story of a Boston Girl Who Seeks Real Love in Her Penitence

Barbara was all honey

By ELENORE MEHERIN

BARBARA sat upright, trembling: "You won't do that! There's nothing personal about it. If it wasn't you, it would be the dessert we served for dinner; the dust on the windows—anything! Edith can make a scene out of anything!"

Chickie remained standing—silent. Barbara reached for her hand. "Besides, this is our home more than hers——"

"Well—she's here now. She will be with you."

"She will not! She'll make a grand bluff about it. She'll shout to everyone that she had to rush home from her trip because of dear Barbara's accident. And she won't so much as sit an hour with me. She has some other reason for coming home. I know her! I'm merely the excuse.

"Besides, she's probably forgotten how the scene started. By morning she'll be ready to deny that she even mentioned your name."

This happened. Chickie awakened several times in the night, hot with resentment and anger.

She rose early, intending to leave. The maid brought her a note:

"Dear Miss Bryce—Barbara tells me you heard. I regret deeply that you should be disturbed by the shabby encounter. My sister mentioned your name entirely at random. Please do not honor her pettiness with any serious attention.

PASTOR DEFENDS GIRL SMOKERS

Says Redmond Said Losses Would Do Him Good

NEW CLUES TO LYNN SLAYING

Mrs. Shanks' Story Leads to Finding Bloody Clothes in Fiaccropele's Room

Mrs. Bessie Shanks, widow of LeRoy Shanks, whose mutilated body was found early Monday in the Boston and Maine freight yards, furnished police today, they allege, with a possible motive for the murder.

Her admission that she made a secret visit to the room of Charles Fiaccrapele, under arrest for the crime, on the day preceding the killing of her husband, came after an all-day grilling of the widow and her children by police detectives.

As the result of her admission detectives went today to the room occupied by Fiaccrapele since he was ordered from the Shanks home, where he had been a lodger for years.

BLOODSTAINED CLOTHES.

Fiaccrapele's room is in a house not far from the Shanks home at No. 138 Alley street. There, the police found a cap, a soft collar and a jacket, all stained with blood, and believed to be the property of the man held for the murder.

Police now believe that Shanks learned of his wife's meeting with Fiaccrapele. They are of the opinion that Shanks upbraided his former lodger for allowing Mrs. Shanks to enter his lodgings and that as a result the husband was waylaid and beaten to death with a wagon-stake in the railroad yards.

SON STILL MISSING.

Mystery still surrounds the whereabout of Francis Shanks, the murdered man's seventeen-year-old son, who disappeared from home a few hours after his father's body was found.

Francis had slept in the tonneau of his father's motor car Sunday night, his mother told the police. She saw him there early Monday morning, she added.

The boy's motor license had been revoked after a collision in Boston while he was driving his father's machine. Police are seeking to locate him for the purpose of questioning him as to what he knows of his father's relations with Fiaccrapele.

HUB BOY DROWNED IN BRAINTREE POND

Fred McGrath, a 12-year-old orphan, whose home is at No. 12 Fox street, Dorchester, was drowned while swimming in Sunset Lake Artificial Pond, Braintree. The boy was seized with cramps while in the middle of the pond. The body was recovered after the pond was drained.

The boy made his home with an aunt in Dorchester, but was spending the Summer vacation with the family of William Trainor of No. 107 Plain street, South Braintree.

MAN POURS OIL UNDER BOILER; IS BURNED

Joseph Tranjosi, twenty-five years old, of No. 17 Tileston street, an engineer's helper, employed in the shop of the National Engineering Company at Brookline avenue and Newbury street, was badly burned about the face and hands when he poured a quantity of kerosene on the fire under one of the boilers. He was removed to the City Hospital.

CHILD BADLY HURT BY FALL OFF R. R. CAR

While playing on the roof of a freight car lying at Atlantic avenue, near Lewis Wharf, Paul Bendivid, six years old, of No. 308 North street, North End, lost his balance and fell to the ground. He was taken to the Haymarket Relief Station and is reported suffering from a fractured skull.

PROTESTED TO FIRM'S HEAD

Declares Broker Said Reverses Strengthened Character; Were Good Luck in Disguise

"Reverses do a man good sometimes; help to strengthen his character," was the reply of George F. Redmond of the bankrupt brokerage house of George F. Redmond & Co., Inc., to a dissatisfied client on one occasion, according to testimony in Federal Court today.

The witness was Charles W. Bellows of Revere, a former customer of the house of Withington & Co., a subsidiary of the Redmond concern.

His attention was directed to his first and most important meeting with Redmond, who is on trial before Judge Lowell and a jury charged with conspiracy and using the mails to defraud.

"Withington & Co. sold me out, and later the firm was joined with the Redmond company, I learned," said the witness.

"I went to Redmond, as head of the concern bearing his name, and he was very philosophical about my losses and mentioned that sometimes bad luck was good luck in disguise."

There was a chuckle in the courtroom, but the judge quelled the crowd with a glance, and the case went on.

Herman J. Hayes, a New York accountant, testified that his examination of the Redmond accounts had been hampered by the absence of certain books and papers bearing on the relations of the defendant, his clients and other brokers.

Miss Jennie E. Whiting of Somerville testified that she bought stocks on the partial payment plan through the Redmond firm, paid $2,520 in two payments and never got her certificates. That was early in the current year.

Norman Skene of Bedford testified that he began trading with the subsidiary house of Withington & Co. two years ago, and generally bought high grade stocks.

He bought twenty-five shares of International Cement stock on the partial payment plan and did not get the stock, he said. He sustained a $1,083 loss. Other witnesses testified along the same line.

MAN KILLED, SON IS HURT IN AUtO CRASH

New Bedford, July 11.—A father is dead, his ninteen-year-old son is dying and a girl companion of the young man is in a serious condition as a result of an auto smashup.

Patrick Moher, fifty-seven, died on his way to St. Luke's hospital after his car collided with a car operated by Bellore Houley.

The Moher machine turned turtle pinning Moher, his son, George, and Miss Emily Marcotte, 18, beneath the wreckage.

At the hospital it was said the girl would recover.

PUBLIC ASKED TO AID TERCENTENARY PLANS

The preliminary survey committee on plans for the celebration of Boston's Tercentenary in 1930 has announced that its next meeting, to be held July 15 in the Council Chamber of City Hall, will be open to the public. All who attend will be invitad to make recommendations as to observance of the 300th anniversary of the settlement of Boston.

MOTORCYCLE SKIDS, MAN HURLED 20 FEET

When his motorcycle skidded in Dudley street, Roxbury, during the storm, Walter Anderson, twenty-eight years old, of No. 3 Kearsarge street, Roxbury, was thrown twenty feet, landing on his back in the street. He was removed to the City Hospital suffering from multiple injuries.

'PLATONIC LOVE' TRIUMPHS

(Photo by International News Reel.)

MILLIONAIRE'S BRIDE AND DIVORCED WIFE

Mrs. Archibald B. Gwathmey, Jr., at left, formerly Mrs. Betsy C. Judd, who became the "patriotic bride" of the rich cotton broker on July 4. At right, the former Mrs. Gwathmey, whom the millionaire divorced. She threatens legal proceedings against him as the result of his marriage to the attractive widow.

BETSEY JUDD IS SECRET BRIDE

New York, July 11.—Mrs. Betsy C. Judd, the "platonic" friend of Archibald B. Gwathmey, Jr., millionaire cotton broker, who figured prominently in divorce hearings of the Gwathmeys recently, has won a new role, that of patriotic bride.

The name plate on Betsy's door in the apartment house just off Fifth avenue, No. 15 West Fifty-fifth street, has been changed to Gwathmey.

She was married to Gwathmey at Stamford, Conn., on the Fourth of July, it became known today. Gwathmey termed the marriage a "natural sequence" to his mixed marital affairs, but it is by no means a climax if the first Mrs. Gwathmey runs true to form.

WON TEXAS DIVORCE.

Gwathmey once won a Texas divorce from his first wife.

The decree, he says, is valid. Mrs. Gwathmey, the first, and her attorneys hold a different view. They have hinted that if the cotton broker dared marry the pretty widow who bought him Virginia hams and whom he described in court as "a platonic friend," he would find himself in a real legal predicament.

It was on the ground that Gwathmey's divorce was illegal that Mrs. Gwathmey sued the broker for a decree. She named Mrs. Judd, but lost the suit, for the "platonic love" defense was upheld.

SEEKS $200,000.

A suit is now pending wherein the first Mrs. Gwathmey seeks to recover $200,000 she says she won playing the cotton market through her husband's brokerage house.

The Independence Day ceremony, news of which caused a stir among friends of the platonic groom and bride, was performed by the Rev. Edward A. Lewis in the Stamford Universalist Church. On the marriage license issued the same day by the Stamford town clerk, Gwathmey gave his age as 50; his bride admitted 52. Her birthplace she gave as Fort Dodge, Iowa. The bridegroom gave his residence as Dallas, Texas.

There's Big Hole Now Where Democrats Fought It Out

New York, July 11.—A great gap yawned in the floor of Madison Square Garden today—a pit that has blue walls and that Saturday will be filled with water.

The Garden is being transformed from a convention hall into a swimming pool where 14,000 may be accommodated in a day.

It will remain that way until Labor Day. Then it will emerge a hall for Winter sports. A year from next month will come the passing of the Garden when it will be razed and replaced by an office building.

CAMBRIDGE COP DROPPED FOR DRINKING

John J. Allen, a Cambridge traffic officer, was sentenced to two months in the House of Correction today by Judge Joseph E. Donovan in the East Cambridge District Court for being drunk while on duty. He was also dismissed from the police department.

Captain Timothy Leahy of the Cambridge station testified that last Wednesday, acting on a complaint of a citizen, he found Allen drinking in a store, took him to the station, but later restored him to duty.

The captain said he chanced to be near Allen's post again Thursday night and found him arguing with John McGee of No. 102 Oxford street, an elderly man driving an auto.

According to the captain, Allen was accusing McGee of being drunk, despite McGee's protestations he had not drank in twenty years.

The captain further testified that Allen had been a member of the force but for five weeks, and that he protested his appointment on the ground that he had a previous record for drunkenness, larceny, and disturbance of the peace.

FIRE AUTO HITS POLE; SPLINTER PIERCES GIRL

Cranston, R. I., July 11.—Swung wide to avoid a flivver, a ten-ton hook and ladder truck crashed into a telegraph pole on the sharp curve at Cranston street and Phoenix avenue today.

Driver, lieutenant in command and four laddermen were dashed to the ground as the machine turned over, but only the driver was hurt.

The telegraph pole, broken in two and split from end to end, sent big splinters flying through the air, and some of them struck two little schoolgirls eating ice cream under an awning across the street.

One of them, Annetta Colombo of No. 33 Phoenix avenue, was struck by a splinter two feet long and a quarter of an inch thick. It passed through her body and came out at the back. She may die.

Irene Ionnal, ten years old, her companion, was struck in the side, the arms and the legs, and surgiial treatment was necessary before the splinters could be removed.

John Reynolds, the driver of the hook and ladder truck, landed on his back when he fell and his shoulder was wrenched painfully.

The truck, recentl yacquired by the Cranston fire department, was wrecked.

The firemen were answering a still alarm from the village of Scituate, where a grain barn was afire. The chief of police of Cranston said the firemen were blameless and, in fact, worthy of commendation for their self-sacrificing swing away from the centre of the road to avoid the flivver which suddenly appeared in their path.

2 ARMY PROMOTIONS APPROVED BY WEEKS

Washington, July 11—Secretary of War Weeks today recommended the promotion of Brig. General Grote Hutcheson, to be a Major General, following the retirement July 19 of Major General Charles H. Muir, commanding the Third Corps area, and Colonel Leroy Eltin to be a Brigadier General.

LET GIRLS SMOKE SAYS PASTOR

Rev. J. W. Brougher Says Husbands Should Quit if They Object

"Let the women smoke if they want to," is the attitude of Rev. James Whitcomb Brougher, pastor of Temple Baptist Church, Los Angeles, said to be the largest congregation in the world, who is filling the pulpit at Tremont Temple this month.

Rev. J. W. Brougher

"If a husband doesn't want his wife to smoke, he had better quit himself. She has just as much right as he to smoke in public or elsewhere."

That is not to say that Dr. Brougher approves of women smoking. But he contends that the wife should have absolutely the same privileges as the husband, if there is to be happiness in the home.

FEW GET HABIT.

"The problem is to encourage a higher level of ideals, rather than drag women down to man's level," he said, when asked for a solution. "The reason that I find fault with smoking and drinking is that they are habits not making for happiness.

"However, I don't think many women, relatively, will get the cigarette habit," he added.

Quizzed next on the modernist-fundamentalist controversy, he replied:

"I'm a fundamentalist, but not an intemperate one. I realize everyone has the right to his opinion. I am tolerant of everything but trouble making. My gospel is to get happy and stay that way."

MAKES SUBJECTS POPULAR.

Dr. Brougher tries to make religion interesting. His lecture and sermon subjects are always popular. Some of their titles are "How to Be Happy Though Married," "A Joy Ride on the Water Wagon," "People Who Ought to Be Muzzled" and "When Ruben Comes to Town."

Sunday morning Dr. Brougher will preach on "How to Become Great" and in the evening on "How to Be Happy and Stay Happy." The Rotary Club will hear him next Wednesday on "Keys and Keyholes."

ROXBURY PATROLMAN BEFORE TRIAL BOARD

Patrolman Edward Burke of the Dudley street police went on trial today at police headquarters on charges of conduct unbecoming to an officer. The proprietor of a Massachusetts avenue gasoline station was the complainant. The gas dealer told the trial board that he had been missing gasoline and thought there was a leak in his pump.

When an investigation proved otherwise, he said, he watched the station one night and saw a car containing women drive onto his platform, with Patrolman Burke on the running board.

Burke denied that he went onto the station platform to steal gas, but for another reason, not inconsistent with his duty. He was also charged with failure to ring in his duty call one night recently.

LYNCH AND SHEPPARD CLASH AT THE ARENA TONIGHT

FINNEGAN IS ON WITH DEMPSEY

By RINGSIDE

BOSTON steps back on the boxing map tonight with a banner show under the direction of the Arena A. C. at the Boston Arena.

Four ten-round bouts will make the fans forget all about hot waves and such uncomfortable happenings.

Gaze upon the program:

Bud Depsey vs. Honeyboy Finnegan.

Jim Maloney vs. Jim Sullivan.

Andy Martin vs. Filipino boxer known as Hose Belasco and by several other well sounding names.

LYNCH has always been a Boston favorite. He made his first appearance here against the youthful and highly sensational Bobby Josephs. The latter had piled up a flock of victories and looked like championship timber. Then along came Lynch and knocked off the local youth.

Terry Martin opposed Lynch in his second appearance here. The decision went to Martin after one of those furious tussles fans like to see.

As champion, Lynch was always popular. All because he could fight. He was a real title holder. Nobody expected that the mediocre Abe Attell Goldstein would defeat Joe. Lynch was more surprised than anybody else. He claims he didn't take the bout seriously and that he didn't train properly. This is a poor excuse as a champion has not the right to underestimate any opponent. Anyhow Joe is out to whang his way back out front in the fistic parade and secure another shot at Goldstein.

SHEPPARD should give Lynch a test. The local youth recently won over Goldstein and has dreams of becoming a champion. He battles much along the same lines as Lynch. If the latter is anywhere near his old self, the fans should witness plenty of action.

BUD DEMPSEY of New York, who tackles Honeyboy Finnegan of Dorchester in another ten, has shown an abundance of class around the New England circuit and will make the local youth step lively. Finnegan recently made a creditable showing against Red Chapman, losing a close decision.

JIM MALONEY of South Boston who is one of the most promising of the New England heavyweights, will test his wallop against that of Jim Sullivan of Providence, while Andy Martin of the South End, whom Billy Henderson believes will be the next bantamweight champion, will have one of the latest Filipino invaders as an opponent.

SPRINGFIELD NINE WANTS GAMES HERE

The Exposition A. C. of Springfield, Mass., are planning a three weeks trip to Boston and would like to play 17-18 teams of Boston and its vicinity. We hold the amateur title for Western Massachusetts and would like to play the Eastern title holders for the State title; providing a suitable guarantee is given. We have open dates for August 3 and 10. When sending replys state: place of game; time game to be started; guarantee offered and directions to get to diamond. Erwin Newman, manager, of Exposition A. C., 87 Bosworth street, West Springfield, Mass.

Jack Conway Picks Lynch, Finnegan, Maloney, Martin

Jack Conway, holder of the world's record for picking winners, hands out the following dope on tonight's bouts at the Arena:

"We are stringing along with Joe Lynch to win over Johnny Sheppard. Lynch always showed at his best against the punchers and so should be able to squeeze out the margin on Sheppard.

"Honeyboy Finnegan should win over Bud Dempsey, Jim Maloney dispose of Jim Sullivan, and Andy Martin is our choice to win over the Filipino."

YALE OARSMEN SHOW SPEED

Paris, July 11.—In a secret spin over the Seine, the Yale crew, which is America's pride and hope in the Olympic regatta, rowed the whole course today in time that was said to be quite close to the world record.

Captain Rockefeller of Yale was emboldened to say that any crew that beats his boat in the race will have to row the course in new world record time.

There are 15 Olympic crews in practise on the Seine, most of them going out in the evening for their trials. The Argonauts of England and the Argentine crew are regarded as the principal challengers of Yale.

ONLY ONE AMERICAN IN SEMI-FINALS

Paris, July 11.—Nineteen nations, represented by seventy-three fencers today began competition for the individual Olympic epee title.

For elimination purposes, they were divided into seven sections, the first six in each qualifying for the first round of the semi finals. Calnan, Milner and Lyon, Americans, weathered the initial round but only Milner was able to win his way into the semi-final.

Two Open Golf Meets Today

The open tournaments of the Norfolk Country Club at Dedham and the Sandy Burr Club at Wayland start today and extend through Saturday.

Norfolk's party is a strictly 18-hole medal play handicap. That at Sandy is a four-ball best ball. At both places prizes for top performances are numerous. There are two gross and nets at Norfolk, and a best selected nine. Should anyone be fortunate enough to score 70 or better they will receive a special trophy. On Saturday evening a dinner dance will be held in the club house, to which everyone in the field is invited.

Sandy Burr are making this occasion an informal opening of their new nine holes. No advance opportunity could be given for practice, as Donald Ross' new product will not have felt the touch of hob nails until this morning. There are prizes here for the best gross, and first, second and third nets. Post entries are allowed. Entrance fee is $2. Norfolk's charge is $1.50.

BOSTON HORSES STAR RACERS

Goshen, N. Y., July 11.—The final day of the intercity meeting of the Junior League of Amateur Drivers here was one of the best race days the league has ever had. It was a repeater for the Boston horsemen, who won the point trophy again, but this time it was not so easily taken.

The Mineola drivers put up a battle for this cup until the last heat, which decided the meet. The finish by Hasting Echo did the trick. W. J. McDonald from the Beantown Club won twenty-nine of the thirty-six points.

The old favorite of the Boston stable, Burr, the black Bingara gelding which has won a prize in all the meetings, came home a winner in the 2:23 trot, beating Bill Talbott.

FAVORITES WIN AT COLUMBUS COURSE

Columbus, O., July 11.—Favorites won three of the four events of the Grand Circuit racing card, which was characterized by ideal weather conditions and fast time.

In the Columbus Dispatch Stake for :05 trotters, Nat Ray's Peter the Brewer, a long shot, upset predictions by winning the first two heats in fast time, while the favored Grey Worthy was never a serious contender. In the final mile Cupid's Altingen won, though closely pressed by Peter the Brewer.

The other stake decided was the Hotel Deshler for 2:11 pacers, which was won by Baron Worthy in straight heats from a big field after Driver Johnson gave way to Harry Stokes to drive Anoakia. Mina Dillon was a straight winner in the first race of the afternoon, the 3-year-old trot.

VICENTINI HARD AT IT FOR KANSAS GO

Summit, N. J., July 11.—Luis Vicentini, Central and South American champion, entered the home stretch of his training period here today for the most important bout of his career. The Chilean is to meet Rocky Kansas of Buffalo in a fifteen-round go at the Queensboro Stadium, Long Island City, Monday night.

Vincentini has been going through daily sessions with Pete Hartley the Durable Dane and Manuel Lema, the 130-pound champion of Uruguay, much to their discomfiture.

'Y' MERMEN TO HOLD MEET SATURDAY

Members of the Boston Swimming Team, comprising the pick of the water performers at the Boston Y. M. C. A., are to participate in a ladies' day program, to be held at the Wollaston Yacht Club, at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, July 12. Several of the best known swimming experts in this part of the country will be seen in action. Their appearance is under the direction of Arthur W. Peel, one of the physical directors at the Boston "Y."

LEVER BROS. TO PLAY GALLOPING DOMINOS

The strong Lever Bros. baseball team will oppose the fast-travelling Galloping Dominoes at Cambridge Field Friday evening as an added attraction to the field day held in aid of the Immaculate Conception Church.

The Lever Bros. nine, that recently defeated the Saxony Mills team, has been greatly strengthened by the addition of two Canadian league players, McKenzie and Carr, who have been hitting at a terrific pace. Game will start at 6:15 promptly.

Semi-pro-Amateur Baseball Gossip

(Replies to Challenges Will Be Taken Care of If Addressed to Boston American Sporting Department.)

The Brookline Town Team are down to clash in the second game of a three-game series with the Checker Taxi nine on the Cypress street play ground, Brookline, tomorrow afternoon.

Both teams have been traveling at a high rate of speed and are considered equal to any of the best semi-pro organizations in New England. Playing for the Brookline nine will be Corcoran, Harvie, S. Murphy, J. Murphy, Varnum, Campbell, Binney, Stewart and V. Campbell. Checker Taxi will use Moag, Ball, McNeil, Marley, Barry, Deeney, Talakson, Riley and Cassell.

FRENCH HORSE LANDS ON AMERICAN SOIL

New York, July 11.—Epinard, Pierre Wertheimer's premier French racehorse, landed on American soil for the first time when the Berengaria docked here this morning, after passing the night aboard the vessel at quarantine.

He was taken by van to Belmont Park, where he will rest a few days before going to Saratoga Springs. At the Spa he will train for the first race, a six-furlong dash at Belmont Park on Labor Day.

SO. BOSTON DODGERS WANT OPPOSITION

The South Boston Dodgers are willing to meet any of the best 14-15-year-old teams in Greater Boston. Some of the outstanding players are T. Dowdall, who does the bulk of the pitching; Joseph McCarthy, catcher, and William Gammon, who plays first.

The other members of the team are: Charles Wilson, Jack Flynn, Albert Kelly, Warren Doyle, Arthur Arvarsion, Donald O'Brien. This team is willing to pay half fares for any visiting team.

For games call South Boston 2456R or write to Frank Alcavez, 4 O street, South Boston.

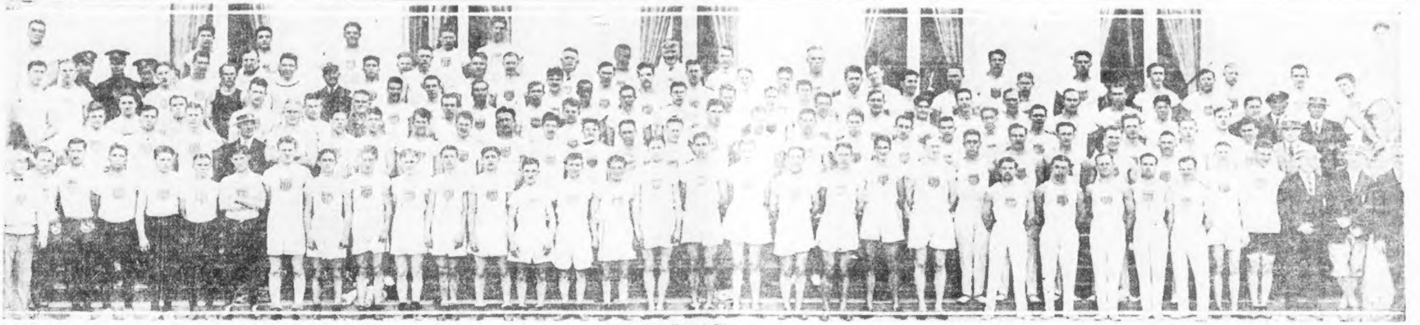
AMERICAN STARS INCREASE LEAD IN THE OLYMPIC EVENTS

FIRST GROUP PHOTO OF U. S. ATHLETES COMPETING IN OLYMPIC GAMES



(International Newsreel Photo)

This exclusive photograph is the first one made of the American athletes who are competing in the Olympic Games at Colombes, France. The picture was made outside their headquarters at Rocquencourt, France.

ONLY ONE BIG RACE ON TODAY

Paris, July 11 (A.P.)—The United States continues to increase its point total over Finland in the Olympic track and field championships.

Outclassing the field in the hammer throw and pole vault yesterday, the Yankee athletes pushed their mark to 176½, while the men from the little Northern Europe republic, despite the double victory of Paavo Nurmi in the 1,500 and 5,000-meter runs, have but 103.

The other point standings are: Great Britain 49½; Sweden 24½; France 13½; Switzerland 10; Hungary 7½; South Africa 5; Norway 4; New Zealand 4; Denmark 3, and Canada 2. Canada was added to the list by virtue of winning fifth place in the pole vault.

Only one event, the 400-meter race, will be decided today, the program being:

3:00 p. m.—100-meter run in the Decathlon.

3:15 p. m.—Broad jump in the Decathlon and semi-finals of the 400-meter run.

4:15 p. m.—Trials for the 3,000-meter team race.

5:00 p. m.—Shotput in the Decathlon and trials for the 10,000-meter walk.

5:45 p. m.—High jump in the Decathlon.

6:30 p. m.—Final of the 400-meter run.

6:45 p. m.—100-meter run in the Decathlon.

An even dozen runners survive for the 400-meter race from the two series of elimination tests run off yesterday in twenty-eight separate heats, in one of which the world's record for the distance was lowered to 48 seconds by Imbach of Switzerland.

The men he will have to beat this afternoon in order to send the Swiss flag up the stadium mast for the first time since the week's program began are: Horatio Fitch, Chicago A. A., and J. Coard Taylor, New York A. C.; Johnston of Canada, E. H. Liddell and G. M. Butler of Great Britain, Engdahl and Stevenson of Sweden, Oldfield and L. B. Betts of South Africa, Charles Hoff of Norway and Paulen of Holland.

The Decathlon, five events of which are to be decided today, will provide one of the few direct competitions between the United States and Finland, the two leading nations in the struggle for points.

Heretofore the Finns have largely improved their total in events where America could offer little competition and likewise the athletes from the United States have conquered in branches of sports where the Finns have seldom had a lookin. The decathlon, however, may develop into a real fight for first honors between the Finnish champion, Paavo Yrjola, and the versatile American, Harold Osborne of the Illinois A. C., who won the American tryouts with a series of fine performances.

Aiding Finland's finest all-around athlete will be his brother, Herman Yrjola, while Osborne will have the assistance of Otto Anderson of the University of Southern California in the quest for points.

Hoff of Norway is one man both the Finns and Americans will have to reckon with, especially if his injured leg continues to bother him as little as it did yesterday in the 400 metre run.

The Americans will also find themselves in direct opposition with the Finns in the trials for the 3,000 metre team race in which the Finns will be strong favorites with their grand triumvirate of long distance runners, Nurmi, Ritola and Stenroos.

The Americans will start at least six men in the team event, Joie Ray, Edwin Kirby, Leo Larrivee, W. L. Tibbetts, Jr., William Cox and James Connolly.

Olympic Program for Today

Olympic Stadium, Colombes, France, July 11. (A. P.)—The feature of today's Olympic games events is the 400-metres run. The events to be contested are:

Decathlon—100 metres flat.

Semi-final—400-metres run, decathlon broad jump.

Trials—3,000-metres team race.

Trials—10,000-metres walk, decathlon shot-put.

Decathlon high jump.

Finals—400 metres run.

Decathlon event—400-metres run.

GOLDEN WHEEL CLASSIC AT REVERE OVAL

The Golden Wheel 10-mile paced race will be the big feature tomorrow night at the Revere track.

Six cyclists will start in the great cycling classic. They are George Chapman, Frankie Keenan, Gustav Ganay, Charley Verkeyn, Henry Wynsdau and possibly Vincent Madonna.

In conjunction with the Golden Wheel, an all-star sprint event will display the powers of Al Goullet, Bobby Walthour, Cecil Walker and Arthur Spencer. It will run on a team plan with Goullet and Walker pairing against Spencer and Walthour.

Sprint racing has always been a great favorite with Revere fans and when these four flash their last lap speed the fans will be up out of their seats.

Not only are records on the pine saucer expected but new attendance figures for the Butler bowl are also looked for.

ENGLISH GIRL FAILS TO SWIM CHANNEL

London, July 11.—Miss Zetta Hills, "The Mermaid of Wembley," today made another unsuccessful attempt to swim across the English Channel. She started from Folkestone at 6 o'clock this morning in a specially constructed rubber costume designed to keep out the cold and enable her to wait in the water for favorable currents. Conditions were ideal when she started, but she gave up after covering seven miles.

EX-CHAMPION IS BACK IN BEST GOLF FORM

Eastern Point, Ct., July 11.—Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd of Bryn Mawr, Penn., former golf champion of the United States, Great Britain and Canada, demonstrated that youth has no monopoly on women's golf.

Mrs. Hurd turned in a smashing seventy-five on the Shennecossett Country Club links here this afternoon, three strokes above par, while playing a round with Garret A. Hobart of Paterson, N. J., son of the former Vice-President of the United States. This equals the course record made by Glenna Collett here two years ago, considered a remarkable performance at that time.

Strangely enough, the Providence star was playing just ahead of Mrs. Hurd today and turned in a seventy-eight, which brought forth many commendations from the clubhouse porch and was considered an unbeatable record for a woman.

Mrs. Hurd demonstrated her endurance as well as her skill, as her great round was the second of the afternoon. She turned in an eighty for the first eighteen holes, expressing satisfaction at playing so well. Mrs. Hurd and Miss Collett will journey to Providence tomorrow, where they will match their best ball on the Rhode Island Country Club links against that of Parker W. Whittemore, well known Boston star.

U. S. MATMEN HOPE TO BE VICTORIOUS

Paris, July 11.—The American wrestling team enters the Olympic catch-as-catch-can mat competition with high hopes of victory today. The team has finally rounded into excellent condition despite the longest list of mishaps any American squad has yet encountered.

The two erstwhile cripples, Charles W. Strack of Colgate University, and Perry Martter of the Los Angeles A. C., who looked as though they might be out of the running, has recovered quickly and are now regarded as almost certain point winners.

Short Sports of All Sorts

WILLIAM T. TILDEN, II, of Philadelphia, national singles champion, met Brian I. C. Morton of St. Louis, formerly of South Africa, in the feature match of today's play in the national clay court tennis championship at the Triple A. Club, St. Louis.

Norton reached the semi-final match yesterday by defeating Walter Wesbrook, Pasadena, in a hard fought contest that ran five sets with the result in doubt until the final three games.

Tilden came into the semi-finals by eliminating Robert Kinsey, San Francisco, in four fast sets.

J. L. Davenport, southpaw ace of the Beaumont, Tex., Club, left for Minneapolis where he goes in exchange for Malone, a right hander. Davenport was included in a three-way swap between Minneapolis, the Chicago White Sox and Exporters whereby the White Sox receive two players from Minneapolis and one from Beaumont while Beaumont gets Malone and Barnes from Chicago. Wirts and Black, former Beaumont players, also went to Minneapolis from Chicago in the deal.

Boxing as a sport in Russia is in danger of disappearing. Several Communist leaders have launched a campaign against pugilism, which they consider "a degrading sport," calculated to demoralize the Russian youth and the people. They propose absolute prohibition of professional boxing and public pugilistic encounters.

Grand Circuit racing followers had for their scheduled program this afternoon a large field of free-for-all pacers, the feature event of the last program of the Columbus, O., meeting which has produced many sensational performances.

It is generally thought that Kate Hal will be able to dispose of whatever opposition Merriman, Buddy Mac, Symbol S., Forrest, War Bride, Prince Loree and Nat Haw's pal, Robert Direct and Elvina Direct can muster.

The United States Army Polo team will play a series of matches in England next summer with the Hurlingham Club of London, according to an announcement by the United States Polo Association. The English army four played in America last year.

Sixty golfers will compete in the final 36 holes for the Metropolitan Golf Association Championship on the links of the Engineers' Country Club, New York, today. Johnny Farrell, of Quaker Ridge, with 144, leads the field. His closest rival is Will MacFarlane of the Oak Ridge Golf Club at Tuckahoe, whose total this morning was 146.

Ray Cargenter of Lancaster, O., lost the world's welterweight wrestling championship to Jack Reynolds, Cedar Rapids, Ia., at Columbus, O. Reynolds had the better of the match from the start. Reynolds pinned Carpenter's shoulders to the mat in two straight falls.

Vincent Shields, pitching ace of the Fredericton baseball club, who last season helped the St. Stephen club to win the championship of the St. Croix League, has signed a contract with the St. Louis club of the National League.

New England fared well in the second round play of the tennis tournament at the conference of the Unitarian Young People's Religious Union. The feature game was that between Emily D. Furness of Brookline and Edmore Britain of Sharon, the former emerging victorious.

East and West will battle for turf supremacy in the $15,000 Chicago Derby at Hawthorne tomorrow with Black Gold, Kentucky Derby victor, prepared to carry the colors of Mrs. R. M. Hoots of Tulsa, Okla., against Major August Belmont's Ladkin, leader of the Eastern contingent.

The fast drying track is expected to be at its best for the Derby providing no more rain, which put the circuit deep in mud for the preliminary yesterday, falls today.

Ed "Strangler" Lewis, world's champion heavyweight wrestler, defends his title tonight against Mike Romano, Italian challenger, at Chicago. It will be their third meeting and will go to a finish, two out of three falls.

A fast field of 12 or more starters is expected in the $10,000 frontier handicap, the feature event of tomorrow's card at the Windsor Jockey club track. Chilhowee, winner of the Latonia Derby, has been trying out the track for several days.

FINAL ROUND IN STATE JUNIOR GOLF TODAY

Charles McAndrew of Wollaston will play Marshall Forrest of the Vesper Country Club today at the Belmont Club for the State junior golf championship. Both were victorious in the third and fourth rounds yesterday.

McAndrew encountered stern opposition throughout the day, being forced to the home green in the morning against Ralph Munro of the United Shoe Course, and in the afternoon calling it quits on the 17th, where James Laly, also a former caddy king of Brookline, offered congratulations. The scores were 1 up and 2 and 1.

Forrest to take his third hurdle was forced to erase a club member and next door neighbor from the issue. This was C. D. Grasse, and the victory was the fourth for the former Lowell champion within a short space of time over his friendly rival. This match proved to be the only one with a flavor of the day's engagement as the score was 3 and 2. Worcester's lone representative, George Styffe, next succumbed on the 17th green. In this case the count was 2 and 1.

BOSTON AMERICAN TO PLAY MEDFORD

The Boston American baseball nine will stack up against the strong Medford City team tomorrow evening at Tufts Park, Medford, at 6 p. m. The fans are expected to turn out in large numbers for this game, as both teams have been going on high this year. The Medford team is composed of Medford High School players, with Knox doing the twirling and Leary receiving his slants. O'Donnell anad Dondero will be the battery for the visitors. Hoffman and Fleischer, two former Revere City players, are with the newspaper team.

RICKARD SIGNS UP SKATERS FOR SEASON

Saranac Lake, N. Y., July 11.—Bobby McLean, professional speed skating champion, has signed a contract with Tex Rickard of New York to be his matchmaker for a program of professional indoor events next season, and is trying to win away several of the best amateur skaters for the professional game.

U. S. SPRINTERS IN TRY-OUTS AT COLOMBES

GEORGES NOT ANXIOUS TO MEET JACK SHARKEY

By JACK CONWAY.

GEORGES CARPENTIER has turned down a $10,000 offer to meet the winner of the ten-round bout between Jack Sharkey of Roxbury and Homer Smith of Kalamazoo, Michigan, which will be staged by the Suffolk A. A. at Braves Field on next Tuesday night.

Jack Curley, Carpentier's American representative, declared Smith was too big for the Frenchman, while he asserted that Georges' American program could not be changed so as to include a contest with Sharkey.

Prior to Sharkey's sensational victory over Lloyd Johnson, it appeared as though a Carpentier-Sharkey match would be arranged for Boston. At that time Carpentier was willing to meet Sharkey, but since the latter loomed up as one of the chief contenders for a contest with Jack Dempsey, Gorgeous Georges has not shown any inclination to meet the Roxbury star.

This writer believes that either Smith or Sharkey could defeat Carpentier. Homer proved his mettle in bouts with Firpo and Wills. He is too big and powerful for the Frenchman.

As for Sharkey, we believe he would knock out Carpentier inside of five rounds. He is every bit as fast as the Frenchman, while he punches about twice as hard.

MATCHMAKER TOM GOODWIN of the Suffolk Club has opened negotiations with Tom Gibbons to meet the winner of Tuesday night's bout. Gibbons isn't as fussy about picking opponents as Carpentier, and probably can be induced to enter the ring with the victor of the Sharkey-Smith match.

GOODWIN should also consider the victor of the bout between Battling McCreary and Leo Gates, which will be staged at the same show with Sharkey and Smith. McCreary is world's light heavyweight champion and capable of holding his own with any man in the world, with the possible exception of Dempsey. As for Gates, he has had a long run of kayo victories in New York rings and believes he is capable of stopping either Sharkey or Smith.

"A line to notify you that Wee Willie Woods has now completely shaken off the cold that compelled a postponement of his bout with Villa. The boy will lay around in the fresh air up at Wamesit for the next few days then will commence training again. Eight days work will bring him back to concert pitch and on the 21st he will be in great shape for the Filipino. When making your selection I know form indicates a win for Villa, but please note that Wee Willie is the best short end bet of the year. He is punching harder than ever, every blow he lands will slow the champion down and if he connects squarely with his chin Villa is sure to go.

"FRANK MOODY should have boxed Jock Malone at Detroit next Monday, but Malone has asked for a postponement until the 21st on account of a strained back. This puts me in a darned tough spot, to have Woods and Moody boxing the same evening at places so far apart as Detroit and Boston. Both attach, rightly or wrongly, some importance to my presence in the corner.

"In addition, a further complication is that Moody is signed to box Bogash at Bridgeport on the 28th, and the Bridgeport promoters have inserted a ten-day priority clause in their contract. No wonder boxing managers go gray.

"By the way, am very anxious to put Moody in with Johnny Wilson at Boston for August. With anyone that will open up and fight, which Malone did not, Moody will give as much action as anybody in the game. He likes boxing southpaws. He and Wilson should prove a corking fight and I hope the pair will meet in Boston."

BLACK GOLD WINNER OF CHICAGO DERBY

Chicago, July 11.—Black Gold, winner of the $50,000 Kentucky Derby, won the Chicago Derby rating handicap at a mile at Hawthorne, beating King Gorin II., by eight lengths. Graeme was third. The price on Black Gold was 3 to 5.

Having Tasted the Bitter, This Boston Girl, Wisely Cautious, Seeks the Sweet

Your leaving now would be a matter of [illegible] and humiliation to both Barbara and me.

"Faithfully yours,

"LEE WILLMAN."

At 10 o'clock the incident closed as Barbara had predicted. Edith Potter's car swung up the drive. Edith, in a polo coat richly trimmed with Summer ermine, came, smiling and cordial, to the veranda where the two girls were sitting.

She was all honey. "You won't mind, Barbara dear, if I'm gone a few hours. It's [illegible] have Miss Brace. You don't [illegible] be lonesome [illegible]"

To Chickie's amazement, Barbara answered, [illegible] your time, Edith. We [illegible]

She gave her bright, sarcastic laugh. "I adore to be of service! Isn't that one of your creeds, dear? But as I'm inquire—" She broke off [illegible]. An automobile honked, [illegible] up the drive.

Edith Potter stood up, her face [illegible] flashed [illegible]

He laughed. "Perhaps this [illegible] strike you better [illegible] Edie." He watched [illegible] She made no move to open the box. Barbara's eyes were [illegible], even Chickie felt a stir of anger.

They were [illegible] looking [illegible] She perceived this. Her lips curved. "Curious, my dear? Pardon me."

Very delicately and [illegible] she snapped off [illegible] opened the box with a [illegible] of delight. Within was [illegible] with an immense emerald. It was cut square and gleamed with a magical brilliance on her white finger. A flush crept over her olive skin.

Dirk Potter said, eagerly: "Like it, Edie?"

She stood up. "You are a dear, Dirkie, old thing. [illegible] a darling."

She gave him a smile. The two of them walked off together.

Willman's eyes followed with a contemptuous flash. "Pay as you enter!" He laughed. "Poor old Dirk will be tolerated for a day or two at that."

Before the evening was over, Edith became restless, intensely irritable. She kept turning the ring. Finally she took it off. The next afternoon Dirk Potter returned to New York.

Barbara said to Chickie: "I feel sorry for him."

"Why?"

"He loves her. The more [illegible] she is, the more he [illegible]"

Chickie laughed. "Some men thrive on a [illegible]"

"But it makes me afraid [illegible] same. Imagine loving [illegible] with all your heart and then having it turn out like that?"

"Did Edith ever love him with all her heart?"

"I don't know. I was only thirteen when she was married. We didn't have as much money then as we have now. Lee says Edith was bought but she won't pay. He's awfully against her. Dirk gives her the most gorgeous things. She likes [illegible]

Yet she strained her ears to hear what he might say. And this, too, chilled her. For Timmy was not completely master of his tongue. He had arrived in a jovial mood and without his hat. This had been lost in some inexplicable manner that puzzled him. He wished [illegible]

[illegible] flirtation with the wife of another guest and had now reached the stage of sentimentally squeezing [illegible]

[illegible] "Do you think [illegible]" asked the enchanted Miss [illegible] speak of the ward?"

He repeated this, [illegible] Chickie's arm and leaning down to [illegible]

[illegible] answered with a [illegible]

The dinner was boring. At Timmy's [illegible] Chickie could only catch snatches of his conversation. For he spoke [illegible] She was glad when [illegible] rose.

She came directly to her husband. Her eyes shone. She patted his hand: "Dirkie, dear, I know [illegible] for a game of [illegible] wants to play [illegible] I've arranged a match. Miss B[illegible] won't [illegible] will you? It's rather fascinating to watch a good player. And [illegible]"

Potter reddened like a boy. He [illegible] warmly. [illegible] Are you going [illegible] tonight?"

"No. Timmy wants to see those [illegible] He's interested. And he has to [illegible]"

[illegible] four other women guests near [illegible] with a wrinkling and royal con[illegible] Edith nodded. He sauntered [illegible] to her side. "We looked for you Tuesday night, Dirk. Too bad you couldn't make it."

As Edith advanced, he came to meet her. The two of them were of an equal height. They crossed the room. Chickie had a sense of rhythm.

His eyes devoured her

MRS. V. Y.

[illegible] sending you the address of Jennie, a young girl who has been the sole [illegible] family the last [illegible]

SPORTS

[illegible] down the river in a leaky skiff.

Visiting the pawnshop in search of nice wedding presents for your [illegible]

Playing a terrible game of golf in order to let the boss beat you.

Taking your girl to the bathing beach only to have her monopolized by a bunch of cake-eaters who came stag.

Being forced to take your parents riding in the car when there are five or six attractive flappers who would love to accompany you.

OUTING TICKETS READY FOR MOTHERS TOMORROW

Speaking of the little tragedies in real life, that [illegible] [illegible] after the great [illegible] [illegible], here's a suggestion of one, in crude outline.

Time, tomorrow morning, say, 10:45 o'clock.

Place—sunless room in any crowded tenement on any street in Greater Boston.

Persons in the cast—A mother and two children; all a little thin, a little [illegible], a little wistful; and another woman, one of the neighbors.

"I declare to goodness, Mrs. X., I never thought to find you here at all this morning," says the neighbor.

"I thought you and the children were going on the outing."

"We were, Mrs. Q.," says the [illegible] two [illegible] coupons, and I [illegible] eight papers today. It's too late now to exchange them, I guess, even if I [illegible]

"So we'll just have to stay at home [illegible] go on the next they run."

REMEMBER THE DAYS?

It's the Boston American outing to Nantasket on Tuesday we're talking about, and you needn't smile at the talk of high tragedy.

Only mothers and men and women who have vivid remembrance of their own kid days know how [illegible] takes [illegible] tragedy when [illegible] and how little it takes to lift a child from despair to the pinnacle of happiness.

[illegible] parts of Boston tomorrow, just such little tragedies will be enacted, probably.

You have to [illegible] and contemned to spend [illegible] young days and nights in a dirty tenement when you should be in the fields to know just how the [illegible] be taken [illegible] by such a [illegible]

[illegible] got [illegible] the [illegible] show that [illegible] it rained on circus day.

And the moral of it all is, as Alice would say, don't disappoint the children. Clip those Boston American coupons today, if you haven't already done it. Present them at outing headquarters, No. 288 Devonshire street, tomorrow. The earlier the better. Then there will be no chance of disappointment on Tuesday.

HAVE ALL COUPONS

To make the first trip each person, big or little, must have coupons cut from the Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday issues of this newspaper this week.

When they are presented at No. 288 Devonshire street the holder will get a ticket for the boat [illegible] ways, and slips and tags for the entertainments and refreshments at the beach.

There will be two boats [illegible] on Tuesday [illegible] will then [illegible] change [illegible] for entertainment, refreshment and steamboat tickets.

One boat will leave E. [illegible] at 9:15 o'clock Tuesday morning and return at 3:30 in the afternoon. The other will leave at 10:45 and return at 4:30.

At the beach the mothers and children who are guests of the Boston American will have bathhouse facilities free; they will be admitted without charge to Paragon Park, and will be served with refreshments at noon.

The next outing after that of Tuesday will be [illegible] for that outing will start running in this paper on Monday next.

General Manager Frederick L. Lane of the Nantasket Steamship Company is helping by placing two boats of his line at the disposal of the American for Tuesday's affair.

Others assisting are:

Francis S. Cummings of the Cummings Milk Company.

J. Howard Bushway of the Bushway Ice Cream Company.

Manager Sarsen of [illegible] Cake Company.

Frank Archer of the Movie Company.

Joseph Sone of Paragon Park.

H. Sarkis of the Saganore bath house.

NEW YORK TO INSURE MILITIA IN PEACE-TIME

New York, July 11.—Peace-time insurance for members of the New York National Guard [illegible] when Major [illegible] W. Berry signed an application for protection totalling between $40,000,000 and $50,000,000 for the 21,000 men under his command.

It marks the first time a State has undertaken to insure its guardsmen. Special legislation was necessary to bring it about.

Houghton Sails

New York, July 10.—Alanson B. Houghton, American ambassador to Germany, sailed for Berlin today on the steamship Columbus. He denied that his visit in this country had been curtailed because of European developments in connection with the Dawes plan.

Facts to Remember About Mother's Outing Trips

[illegible] second set of coupons will appear in the Boston American next Monday, July 14, and will be followed with another each day for five days. When these coupons are presented in person at the American Outing Headquarters, they will be exchanged for one ticket and a tag admitting the holder to Paragon Park for the second boat trip.

Outing headquarters, No. 288 Devonshire street, will open at 8 a. m. each Saturday.

First come, first served.

Only 3,000 persons permitted by law on the two boats.

The law requires that every passenger, even babies, must have own ticket on boarding steamboat.

Tickets limited to mother or guardian and 2 children—capacity of boat makes this imperative.

First boat leaves Nantasket Beach Steamboat Company wharf on Atlantic avenue at 9:15 each Tuesday morning. Returning it will leave Nantasket at 3:30 p. m.

The second boat leaves the Atlantic avenue wharf at 10:45 the same morning, and returning leaves Nantasket at 4:30 in the afternoon.

Be sure and read your ticket.

Do not take coupons to the boat, as they will not be accepted.

Those who failed to get on the first trip, be sure to start next Monday saving the second series coupons. Five are needed, consecutive dates.

HOOK AND EYE OFTEN UNHOOKS A COUPLE

New York, July 11.—"Hooks and eyes are as much responsible for divorces and separations as bad habits are."

Court records do not show this, but Mrs. Adele Patterson, designer of fashions, who sailed on the United States liner Cleveland, says it is true, nevertheless.

How? Oh, just because Friend Husband, while he may enjoy for a while the task of trying to put the right hook in the right eye, eventually becomes exasperated. Then begins quarrel No. 1, and so on.

Finally their troubles are aired in the courts with "incompatibility" as the cause.

KEEP UP BONUS QUERIES; AMERICAN WILL ANSWER

Still they come, hundreds, beneficiaries of the bonus, seeking [illegible] and advice.

In [illegible] letters they daily present to the Boston American Soldiers' Friend a wide variety of problems, most of them elemental but some of them requiring real research and considerable time.

They ask such questions as the following: "Am I in view of stated service, eligible for the bonus? What will it amount to? Are the sisters and brothers of a deceased World War veteran eligible to collect in his place?"

Below are some concrete samples of the kind of questions submitted to the Boston American Soldiers' Friend, Winthrop square, Boston, Mass.:

J. F. G., DOVER, N. H.

Q.—I enlisted in the navy November 8, 1917, and was discharged on March 7, 1918, by order of the Secretary of the Navy for being under age. Am I entitled to the bonus?

A.—The bonus law provides that no compensation credit will be allowed to veterans not honorably discharged. If you were not discharged under other than honorable conditions, you will be eligible to make application for the bonus.

A. C., MONTREAL.

Q.—Please tell me whether a French-Canadian by birth but a naturalized American citizen, who served in the Canadian forces during the World War, is entitled to the bonus?

A.—No. The bonus law recently passed by the United States Congress applies only to members of the military or naval forces of the United States who served at any time after April 5, 1915, and before November 12, 1918.

D. F. K., NORTHAMPTON, MASS.

Q.—I am a veteran of the World War, and would like to know what dates I must know for filling out an application, and where can I get a blank?

A.—When you receive an application blank fill it out with the greatest care, using the information contained in your discharge paper, and follow very carefully the instruction sheet accompanying the bonus blank. If you have lost your discharge paper, answer the questions from memory to the best of your ability. Application blanks may now be obtained from any postoffice, American Legion post, American Red Cross, or any other veteran organizations.

J. McC., GREENVILLE, ME.

Q.—As a veteran of the World War please tell me where to get my finger prints taken on the bonus blank?

A.—Veterans or other applicants for the bonus may have their finger prints taken at any police station, printing shop or newspaper office where printer's ink is used.

J. A. W., WESTERLY, R. I.

Q.—I served in the naval reserve forces from August 5, 1918, to August 9, 1919, when I was honorably released from active duty. Three months later I returned to active duty in the navy and received a bad conduct discharge September 23, 1921. Am I eligible for the bonus?

A.—A veteran who was a member of the naval forces of the United States at any time after April 5, 1917, and before November 12, 1918, and who during such period or thereafter was separated from such service under other than honorable conditions, is not eligible to the bonus. You should fill out an application, and after it is received in Washington, the question whether or not you should receive the bonus will be determined by the bonus officials.

A. H. P., LYNN, MASS.

Q.—I am a veteran of the World War and would like to know what I must do to get the bonus?

A.—Get a bonus blank from any postoffice, American Legion post or American Red Cross branch, read very carefully the instruction sheet which you will receive with it, and take the greatest care in filling out the application. We shall be glad to help you fill out the blank if you will call at our Bonus Bureau, 50 Summer street, Boston.

L. K. P., BOSTON.

Q.—I joined the navy March 24, 1917, sailed overseas November 3, 1917, returned January 5, 1919, and was honorably discharged March 24, 1921. About how much will my insurance amount to? I am now 26 years old.

A.—After deducting sixty days of home service, you will be entitled to a credit of $1 a day, plus $1.25 a day for overseas service. From your length of service, at your age you undoubtedly will receive the maximum credit of $625, which multiplied by 2.535 will give you the approximate face value of your insurance certificate.

Treasury to Repay $16,000,000 Income Tax Payments

Washington, July 11.—The Treasury has mailed 2,163 checks to taxpayers covering the amount of refunds due them as a result of the 25 per cent. reduction granted by Congress in this year's tax bill. The checks, totalling $15,197, represent the first batch of refunds to be disposed of by the Treasury from the whole number of 1,058,000 persons who remitted their taxes in full in advance of enactment of the legislation. The Treasury expects to have all of the refunds —about $16,000,000 — turned back by the middle of September.

ELIOT AND GARFIELD ON PINCHOT BOARD

Harrisburg, Pa., July 11.—Sixteen nationally known educators, publicians and engineers were appointed to the giant power advisory board by Governor Pinchot.

Dr. C. W. Eliot — Prof. H. A. Garfield

Dr. Charles W. Eliot, President Emeritus of Harvard, and William Allen White of Emporia, Kansas, head the new list of appointees. Other members are Fred A. Gaby of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, John Freeman of Providence, R. I., Raymond B. Stevens, Prof. Henry S. Graves of the Forestry School of Yale University and Harry A. Garfield of Williams College, Williamstown, Mass.

OFFICIALS BREAK DRY LAW, CHURCHES SAY

Washington, July 11.—Assertion that "moral shame and humiliating disgrace" has been brought upon the nation by the disregard of the prohibition law by a "relatively small number" of public officials is made in a resolution adopted by the administrative committee of the Federal Council of Churches.

The resolution urges upon all public officials, including officers of the army and navy, the "imperative necessity of a conscientious and thoroughgoing personal observance of the law regarding alcoholic beverages."

PRICES HIGHER IN NEW YORK MARKET

Prices were higher in the New York stock market with money ruling at 2 per cent. At times the list was spotty on profit taking.

New highs for the year were established by Consolidated Gas, North American pfd., St. Louis & Southwestern, Chesapeake & Ohio, Brooklyn Union Gas and Montana Power, all up a point to nearly 3 points.

Sinclair Oil and Daniel Boone Woolen Mills sagged fractions to fresh bottoms for the year.

American Water Works shot up 5, Davison lifted 3. In the afternoon there were gains of a point to more than 2 points for Erie, International Paper, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, Western Union, United Railway pfd., Woolworth and General Electric.

Schulte Stores and National Lead slipped a point or more. American Sumatra Tobacco common and preferred and Munsingwear fell back 1 to 3 points to new low prices for the year.

In trading on the Boston Stock Exchange, American Telephone and rights were slightly lower. United Fruit was off 1½. Waldorf was up around a point to a recent high. Galveston-Houston backed on 2.

Contrasting Prices Rule Movements in Bond Mart

Contrasting price movements again marked the New York bond market. The appearance of large blocks of call money in the "outside" market available at lower rates than quoted on the Stock Exchange, was an impetus to investment buying.

Foreign government, railroad and public utility issues attracted most of these orders, as Liberty Bonds were neglected.

Gains ranging from fractions to 2 points were recorded by Erie, Great Northern, Frisco, West Penn Power, Swiss government and Finland obligations. Uneasiness over the reported spread of the Sao Paulo insurrection, however, inspired further selling of Brazilian issues, which averaged losses of about a point.

A drop of 5 points was recorded on the first sale of Mexican as made this month.

FINANCE

—By B. C. Forbes—

Something last year caused a loss to workers of more than 1,000 million dollars in wages.

Something last year caused a loss of working time equal to 757,000 men being out of work for the whole year.

Something brought pain and distress to 2,500,000 wage-earners.

Something last year increased your cost of living and mine.

What was it?

Accidents.

Can anything be done, is anything being done to reduce this shocking record?

Yes.

Eugene G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, has made this announcement to all employes:

"In the course of the past eight years the number of Bethlehem accidents in proportion to the number of employes has been reduced by 40 per cent. However, the accidents which still occur in our plants from day to day are witness to the fact that we have room for improvement.

"One of Bethlehem's big jobs is to reduce still further the number of accidents to the men in the steel plants, shipyards and mines. Accidents are undoubtedly the largest single item of avoidable waste in our manufacturing costs.

"Accident prevention work pays three-fold returns: There is a return to the employer in lower costs, a return to the employe in a physical and monetary saving, and a return to the community through a lessening of care for the maimed and disabled. Any one of these alone justifies the furtherance of the work, but taken in the aggregate they constitute one of the most important planks in the platform of good business."

Think of it: One out of every twenty persons at work in the United States last year met with a serious accident. These accidents caused a loss of 227,000,000 working days. Figured at $4.50 a day, the loss in wages alone reached $1,022,000,000.

* * *

What kind of accidents are most common? In this corporation's plants more than half of all accidents entailed injury to hands or feet, most often to the ends of fingers or toes.

The following table gives the percentage of the different kinds of accidents:

| | Per Cent. |
|---|---|
| Handling material | 22 |
| Falling or tripping | 16 |
| Falling material | 14 |
| Handling tools | 12 |
| Stepping on or striking against objects | 9 |
| Burns | 6 |
| Machinery | 5 |
| Flying particles | 4 |
| Engines and cars | 1 |
| Miscellaneous | 11 |

What can be done about it?

By conducting a vigilant campaign among its workers, the Bethlehem Corporation, as already told, has reduced by 40 per cent. the total number of accidents per 1,000 employes and has reduced the number of fatal accidents by 25 per cent.

* * *

If it ever was true that "America puts money above human life," it is not true today. No other country in the world now spends as much money as American business concerns of all kinds now spend not only to prevent accidents but to take the most scientific care of those suffering injuries. Many of our industrial plant hospitals are as efficiently equipped as the best of our large city hospitals.

But, as Mr. Grace remarks: "We still have room for improvement."

Tire Buying — No Trouble

There are two ways to purchase tires and other auto accessories. One is by shopping the rounds of the stores—with the resulting effort and expense. The other is the AMERICAN classified way—a few seconds to discover just the auto accessory you were looking for.

IT COULDN'T BE SIMPLER

Whatever the article you're in the market for, turn first to The American's classified columns—saving time and money thereby.

"more returns than all other papers put together"

In looking over our advertising results for the last two years, we find that we have had more returns from our "ads" in your paper than we have had from all our "ads" in the other papers put together.

Yes, Matter Circulates

So Do We, Perhaps, to Distances Inconceivable

The San Francisco Call, with John Francis Neylan, brilliant publisher, and Fremont Older, learned editor, discusses solemn subjects ably, as you would expect it to do.

It reminds you that as the blood circulates in your veins, the matter circulates on this little planet, and undoubtedly through all of cosmic space.

To illustrate how matter circulates the Call quotes the famous Scotch scientist, J. A. Thompson, who told his students about "successive incarnations," using humble creation for his text, thus:

"Animate nature is run on what may be called a scheme of successive incarnations. Matter is always passing from one embodiment to another, and nothing is ever lost." To explain just what he meant he submitted the calculation that—

"One pound of cod means that the cod, to make it, had to eat ten pounds of whelk or buckle, a marine mollusc.

"One pound of buckle means that the buckle, to make it, had to eat ten pounds of sea worms.

"One pound of worms means that the worms, to make it, had to eat ten pounds of vegetable sea dust.

"We mean by the vegetable sea dust the microscopic plants and their remains."

So it goes all through nature. The lion weighing one hundred and fifty pounds has eaten and digested at least three thousand pounds of antelope and other meat to build up his weight, and those animals devoured by the lion had probably eaten and digested 500,000 pounds of vegetable foods in order to prepare meat for the lion.

When the British sportsman fires a bullet into the brain of the lion and kills him he explodes in the powder behind that bullet the thinking and inventing of a hundred thousand years.

When you eat a pound of beef you get the benefit of at least a hundred pounds of hay and five pounds of grain eaten by the ox. Those opposed to vegetarianism tell you: "Let the ox eat the vegetables and digest them, he has plenty of time for them. You wait and get the concentrated essence of all the vegetables in one pound of beefsteak."

The vegetarian will tell you that it is cruel to eat the ox, who is your brother. And that CONVINCES you until some other humanitarian tells you that plants are also your brothers and sisters, that they feel and don't like to be eaten any more than the ox does—in fact less, for the ox is dead when you eat him, whereas the clover is alive as the ox crops and chews it.

All matter is in circulation, here and everywhere. And what we are pleased to call "dead matter" is made up of atoms in which the electrons circulate around the central nucleus with a horrible intensity of speed utterly beyond our comprehension. Each atom is a tiny solar system, the nucleus is like our sun, in the middle, and the electrons are like this earth and the other planets going around a central body, the sun.

Imagine calling "DEAD matter" a substance in which the parts that make up the atom circulate around the central nucleus billions of times in a second.

Matter and force are indestructible. The flame that you see burning in a lamp is not lost when it "goes out," and never will be lost. What we call light is changed to heat, as it burns, and the heat remains. That heat can be captured, transformed into electricity and used as power to drive cars. Then again it is not destroyed.

Every atom of matter remains in existence. You burn a pile of wood, or a ton of coal, and you DESTROY nothing. You simply separate the particles of the wood or the coal, sending the greater part up through the chimney, leaving the ashes, but nothing is lost, nothing diminished.

We KNOW that matter and force, which for all we know may be the same things, are indestructible. We believe that the spirit or consciousness with which man applies force to matter and controls both is also indestructible.

It is hard to believe that a system of cosmic government in which matter and force endure forever, would condemn to destruction and annihilation consciousness, or spirit, or SOUL, which controls matter and force and rules this planet.

We are here today, made up of a few pounds of meat, representing vegetables eaten by the animals, and a few pounds of vegetables eaten by ourselves.

The meat and the vegetables are changed into US. Then we die, become dust, and we are changed back into the earth beneath our feet.

By and by this earth will end, will be destroyed, scattered in cosmic dust to be reassembled and made up into another planet, or star, or group of little flying meteors, raining down to build up a bigger globe.

What becomes of us, the REAL us? Faith, the truth revealed miraculously, tells us all about it, and saves us the trouble of thinking or speculating.

Scarce Millionaires

Too Bad, Isn't It?

It seems that very few Americans, DISTRESSINGLY few, have an income of one million dollars or more.

In 1921 only twenty-one citizens reported a one-million-dollar income.

That's sad, but it only takes twenty million dollars at 5 per cent. to produce an income of one million. There are surely several times twenty-one Americans that wouldn't sell all they have for twenty millions.

This isn't a poor country, however. One bank, the National City, of which Mr. Mitchell is president, shows resources of one billion dollars. That's quite a bank, with but ten dollars for every man, woman and child in the United States. At the rate it has grown in the last thirty years, it should have five billions to show in twenty-five years more.

Around the House

IS THAT SO? WELL YOU WILL WEAR IT AND THAT'S SETTLED I'M TIRED OF SEEING YOU GOING AROUND LOOKING LIKE A TRAMP
YOU LOOK PERFECTLY STUNNING— NEVER MIND WHAT ANY OF YOUR LOW BROWED CRONIES SAY I KNOW THAT SUIT LOOKS LOVELY
IF I LOOK THE WAY I FEEL I'LL BE ARRESTED BEFORE NIGHT
HELLO. DEARIE
NOW I KNOW WHO POSES FOR THOSE COLLAR ADS
WHAT DID YOU DO WITH THAT NEW SUIT?
GAVE IT TO THE SALVATION ARMY

A WIFE'S MEDITATIONS

By HELEN ROWLAND

We love but once—God made us that way.

* * *

Helen Rowland

Real love—the One Love—may come in the Springtime of life, all fresh and glowing and tender. Or it may come in life's Autumn—all ripe and mellow and golden.

* * *

It may be as fragile and evanescent as the morning glory; or as sturdy and imperishable as the immortelle. But it can be no higher than your ideals, no deeper than your spirit, no broader than your vision, no more beautiful than your illusions, and no stronger than your faith.

* * *

A woman knows only one real love; never again can she scrape together enough illusion to cover any man with perfection.

We may murder love—but it never dies of its own accord. We may strangle it with devotion, freeze it to death with neglect, throttle it with selfishness, poison it with suspicion—but its ghost comes back to haunt us.

* * *

And its very ghost is so bright that it will make all the little, synthetic loves, with which we try to replace it, seem dull and cheap and tawdry.

Real love is all give and take—synthetic love is mostly misgive and take.

Synthetic love starts in the pocket-flask and makes the head go 'round—real love starts in the head and makes the heart go 'round.

* * *

Synthetic love may be blind—but real love sees with double vision and enchanted eyes. It sees charms in you which you never suspected; virtures which you did not think you possessed; possibilities of which you had never dreamed.

Synthetic love may drive a man to the devil or a woman to folly; but real love runs to the compass and inspires the lover to follow his highest aspirations and the Star of his vision.

* * *

Real love may carry its head in the clouds; but its feet must be planted upon the firm ground of understanding, sympathy and friendship.

No man who has experienced real love can ever find much flavor in synthetic love—just as no woman who has worn real jewels finds any thrill in wearing paste.

We love but once—God made us that way.

THE HELPING HAND

Letters Not Answered Personally. No Attention Paid to Telephone Calls or Anonymous Letters. No Names Published.

Ill Three Months

Editor Helping Hand:

I have been in the hospital for three months with rheumatic fever and got out about two weeks ago. I have gone back to work but my clothes are very shabby. Would there be a kind gentleman who would give me a suit which he has ceased wearing, size 40 until I get some money to buy a new one?

F. McH.

Good Things Offered

Editor Helping Hand:

I have quite a few lovely things for a woman wearing sizes 36 or 38. Also some baby shoes, etc., to fit a one-year-old. Also some things for a girl of fifteen. Please have some person who is living in Dorchester call as I am unable to send or bring them myself.

MRS. S. S.

Thank you. We couldn't find anyone in our files living in Dorchester who could use all you offered so we have sent the address of someone living in a near by town who will be glad to come to get your generous offer.

Has a Start Now

Editor Helping Hand:

I want to thank the Helping Hand and kind ladies that have helped me out in time of need. I got an overcoat from Mrs. G. C. of Stoneham, for my husband and a coat for my mother. Another very kind lady came all the way from Waltham with coat and things for my dear mother. She is well supplied now, thanks to you and those kind ladies.

I have asked several times for a coat for myself but never got one. Perhaps size 38 would fit me. It's so long since I got one I don't know. I can get a job in a store Thursdays and Saturdays, after my morning work, until ten at night and that would mean a little more money for me. All the mills are shut down. If I had a few dresses and a coat I would be getting about twelve dollars a week, and that will help to feed the family until the mills open again.

MRS. H. J.

Ought to Have Them

Editor Helping Hand:

Has anyone a suit of long pants, or any shirts that would fit a boy sixteen? I am quite large for my age and can easily wear a seventeen or eighteen. There are eight of us in the family and I am out of a job, and father can not buy us all we need.

RED.

Here's a Donation

Editor Helping Hand:

Enclosed you will find two dollars for the Helping Hand Fund.

N. B., Lowell.

Thank you. If it were not for donations like yours, it would not be possible to give immediate help to cases of extreme need.

Likes Good Work

Editor Helping Hand:

I have a few things in ladies' wearing apparel, size 38. Will you kindly send the name and address of someone who could use them. I have a sincere admiration for your wonderful work.

A. J. E.

Thank you. You have been sent the address of Mrs. W. H. F. We are very human and value appreciation.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis

Old Nature works unresting, age on age, with tree and beast and soil; she writes on rocks, as man upon a page, the story of her toil. With ant-like skill she builds the mountains up, great heights that greet the sky, with patient hands she scoops the valley's cup where singing rivers lie. She strews the shining sands of ocean's bed, and moulds the coral reef; she breathes a song, in shells whence life has fled, of ocean's joy and grief. Through countless ages toiling thus she goes, and then, with smiling face, devises perfect petals for the rose or spins the spider's lace. And sometimes, in a dreaming, happy hour, forgetting weighty tasks, she ponders on the color of a flower that in the sunlight basks. And so it is in some such lighter mood she forms her jewels rare; cold fire to be by warmer beauty wooed, fair gems for hands more fair. It may be that she clasps them to her heart ere hiding them away; that, womanlike, she sighs, perhaps, to part with some great ruby's ray. She shapes vast hills and seas that wildly swirl; but in the smiling hours she fashions diamond, sapphire, ruby, pearl; her age-ending flowers.

DR. FRANK CRANE ON WHAT TO DO

By DR. FRANK CRANE

I GET tired of people who are forever clamoring to do do, do!

And this overactivity seems to be not so pernicious in bad actions as in good.

Burglaries are carefully planned and usually quite successful, but the world is full of philanthropies that went off half cocked and did little but wound innocent bystanders.

If the baby is sick, if our international relations are tangled, if taxes are too high, if the roast is underdone, if the unemployed are too numerous, if boys and girls are too frisky, up jumps the average man and demands why we do not Do Something.

Even the godsakers appear and want to know for God's sake why we don't Do Something.

The reason, of course, is pitiably simple. We don't know what to do.

Of course one can wait too long, and there is a criminal indecision, but on the whole the lashers out and jumpers in do more damage than good.

As a matter of fact, keeping still has settled more disputes than all eloquence, and letting alone has cured more invalids than all medicines.

Business may be crippled, times hard and finances in a bad way. But if a kindly Providence would carry out into the ocean and drown all legislators who pass laws and make regulations to improve things, affairs would quickly right themselves.

Women's skirts will get to about the right length if meddlers will quit trying to stretch or shorten them.

Movies will grow decent if legislatures will let them alone.

There is a strong, balancing, righting force in the universe. Action is equal to reaction. Drunkards die off. The money octopus at last is devoured by the law of diminishing returns.

Your boy will come through somehow if you will not regulate him too much, your husband will improve if you quit nagging; things come around at last about where they ought to be.

And it will never get well if you pick it.

GARRETT P. SERVISS ON ISOSTASY DOCTRINE

By Garrett P. Serviss.

Famous Astronomer and Writer on Scientific Topics of Popular Interest.

JOHN F. HAYFORD, director of the College of Engineering of Northwestern University, has been awarded a medal for his work in establishing the doctrine of "isostasy."

Isostasy shows among other things that the earth is solid from surface to centre, and not, says Dr. Hayford, "a floating crust on a liquid interior."

I can remember hearing when a boy and when the now discarded notion still prevailed, even among geologists, that there was only some forty miles of cooled shell between us and an interior globe of liquid fire 8,000 miles in diameter, alarming hints that the place of eternal punishment was all ready, right under foot! I spent some uneasy moments meditating on that. Forty miles, to be sure, was a long distance, but—it was only as far as Albany.

"This crust over the liquid fire," explained an old brother home on college vacation, "is about the thickness of an egg shell." The next time I broke an egg I thought about it.

It would have been very comforting then to hear about Dr. Hayford's medal, and I should have welcomed "isostasy" in spite of its tough looks with a good deal more enthusiasm than I was able to work up for grammar.

But, viewed with adult eyes, isostasy itself doesn't make the earth's interior seem a place of eternal repose. The word means substantially the same thing as equilibrium. The idea is best illustrated by its application to mountains. Though composed of solid rock, mountains are relatively lighter than the subterranean matter on which they rest, and are "floated" by it, somewhat as an iceberg floats. The mountain, like the iceberg, displaces an amount of the denser matter below, proportioned to its weight. The lighter the materials of the mountain, other things being equal, the higher it will rise above the flotation line.

The odd thing about this is the use of the word "flotation." If the interior of the earth is not liquid, and if isostasy helps to prove that it is not liquid, how, it may be asked, can we speak of mountains floating? But there is no difficulty if we simply widen the meaning of "float" to include all cases in which a lighter body is pushed upward against gravity by a surrounding medium which is more or less plastic, that is, capable of being moulded into changing forms. Even solids under sufficient stress become plastic, and "flow like viscous liquids," although they do not turn liquid.

In this way, then, it may be conceived that the denser interior matter of the earth buoys up the relatively light mountains formed on its surface. Experiments with the direction of the plumb line show that mountains and their subterranean roots are lighter, bulk for bulk, than the material that underlies plains and oceans, where the surface has been depressed by deposits brought down from the uplifted plateaus and ranges.

But, although a general state of isostatic equilibrium exists, it must not be inferred that there is no motion inside the earth. There is no absolute rest there, for under the tremendous pressures, altered in amount and direction by many circumstances, changes take place, some of whose effects are felt on the surface in the form of earthquakes. The evidence obtained from isostasy shows that the origin of earthquakes is much deeper seated than the older theories assumed.

It also shows that the formation of mountain chains, and masses other than volcanoes, has been due to horizontal thrusts in the upper crust, acting often on a very large scale. A striking instance of such action mentioned by Dr. Hayford is that the distance between Harrisburg and Pittsburgh, Pa., or rather between the spots where they now stand, was shortened nearly ten miles by the crumpling of the rocks which piled up the Allegheny ranges.

GIVE DESERVED RESPECT TO THOSE WHO SERVE YOU

Why should you think that the girl waitress is anxious to make your acquantance—that she is waiting for a chance to make an engagement with you?

In other words, why do you not treat the girl in such a position with respect and courtesy?

You may be the kind of man who makes suggestive remarks to girls in positions of this sort?

Or you may be the type of man who treats a girl holding such a job as one to whom you may vent any ill-temper which possesses you.

Why should you not give deserved respect to the girl who serves you?

She is earning an honorable living, in the way for which she may be best fitted, or because conditions are such that she has to take such a position until more proficient in another.

It matters not what the job, it is entitled to respect; and the person who conducts herself properly should be able to command respect in her job.

When you extend her less than this you denote the lack of the finer qualities which a real gentleman possesses.
